Using Microcomputers in the Social Studies Classroom Robert B. Abelson,1983 The purpose of this book is to help teachers feel at ease with microcomputers so that they will begin to think of computers as tools that they themselves might use There are four chapters The first chapter provides basic information to help a user understand the computer Discussed are how the computer is put together and how it works To help teachers generate ideas about how this new educational aid might be useful in terms of their own teaching objectives the second chapter describes why and how other educators are using the computer Chapter 3 is an introduction to software evaluation i e how computer programs that are available for use in the classroom can be judged Criteria are presented It is suggested that teachers using computer assisted instruction should have a feel for some of the broader issues related to computers in education as well as practical knowledge The purpose of the fourth chapter which deals with social and educational issues and directions is to provide a perspective about these broader issues and a context into which teachers might place their own activities Most of the book s readings provide a bibliography of references and further resources In addition a list of resources available through the ERIC system is provided

RM Building Coalitions in the Human Services Milan J. Dluhy, Sanford L. Kravitz, 1990-05 This book focuses positively on a particular kind of politics of scarcity how human service groups can join forces and work together in coalitions in order to manoeuvre government resources more effectively generate new non governmental resources and find substitute funds The book briefly reviews the experiences of thirteen coalitions and describes how to organize develop and maintain a coalition Exercises give readers the opportunity to apply the knowledge presented in each chapter

A Directory of Microcomputer Software in the Human Services Joseph A. Doucette, 1985 Agencies Working Together Robert J. Rossi, Kevin J. Gilmartin, Charles W. Dayton, 1982-10 Describes ways in which human service agencies working in related areas can coordinate with one another without undue expense or difficulty The authors offer ways of improving such common techniques as cross referral networks They also describe rare and relatively difficult approaches such as joint programme evaluation Methods for establishing ties with other agencies and setting common objectives are detailed along with techniques useful in meeting immediate client needs Case consultation joint intake and assessment colocation of agencies and exchange of staff and potential difficulties and benefits of cooperation are also considered Journal of Park and Recreation Administration ,1983 Microcomputer Software Sources Carol Truett, 1990 Techniques and Guidelines for Social Work Practice Bradford W.
