Green,2014-07-14 Twelve Good Men and True brings together some of the most ambitious and innovative work yet undertaken on the history of an English legal institution These eleven essays examine the composition of the criminal trial jury in England the behavior of those who sat as jurors and popular and official attitudes toward the institution of jury trial from its almost accidental emergence in the early thirteenth century until 1800 The essays have important implications for three problems central to the history of criminal justice administration in England the way in which the medieval jury was informed and reached its verdict the degree and form of independence enjoyed by juries during the early modern period when the powers of the bench were very great and the role of the eighteenth century trial jury which although clearly independent was by virtue of the status and experience of its members arguably a mere extension of the bench This extensive collection marks the first occasion on which scholars working in several different time periods have focused their attention on the history of a single legal institution Written by J M Beattie J S Cockburn Thomas A Green Roger D Groot Douglas Hay P J R King P G Lawson Bernard William McLane J B Post Edward Powell and Stephen K Roberts the essays utilize sophisticated techniques to establish from a variety of manuscript sources the wealth status and administrative experience of jurors Originally published in 1988 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905      Report from the Committee of the Legislative Council on the Judicial Establishment of the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope Cape of Good Hope (South Africa) Parliament,1845      The Government of Pennsylvania and the Nation Clinton D.
