The War Maker: Being the True Story of Captain George B. Boynton Horace Smith, 2011-01-01

THROUGHOUT my life I have sought adventure over the face of the world and its waters as other men have hunted and fought for gold or struggled for fame The love of it whether through the outcropping of a strain of buccaneer blood that had been held in subjection by generations of placid propriety or as a result of some freak of prenatal suggestion was born in me deep planted and long rooted Excitement is as essential to my existence as air and food Through it my life has been prolonged in activity and my soul perpetuated in youth when I can no longer enjoy its electrification Death as it is so spoken of will I hope come quickly To get away from the flat tiresome beaten path and find conditions or create situations to gratify the clamorous demand within me has ever been my compelling passion I have served all told under eighteen flags and to each I gave the best that was in me even though some of them were disappointing in their failure to produce a pleasing amount of excitement In following my natural bent which I was powerless as well as disinclined to interfere with or alter to the full length of my capabilities it perhaps will be considered by some people that I have gone outside of written laws To such a contention my answer is that I have always been true to my own conscience which is the known and yet the unknown quantity we all must reckon with and to my country In the transportation of arms with which to further fights for freedom or fortune I have flown many flags I had no strictly legal right to fly over ships that were not what they pretended to be nor what their papers indicated them to be but never have I taken refuge behind the Stars and Stripes nor have I ever called on an American minister or consular officer to get me out of the successive scrapes with governments but most often with misgovernments into which my warring wanderings have carried me Red blooded love of adventure free from any wanton spirit and with the prospect of financial reward always subordinated has been the driving force in all of my encounters with good men and bad with the latter class much in the majority Therefore I have only scorn for sympathy and contempt for criticism nor am I troubled with uncanny visions by night nor haunting recollections by day There is just one point in my philosophy which I wish to make clear before the Blue Peter is hoisted and that is that most of the so called impossibilities we encounter are simply disguised opportunities Because they are regarded as impossible they are not guarded against and are therefore comparatively easy of accomplishment when they really are possible as most of them are Acceptance of this theory with which every student of the history of warfare will agree will help to explain my ability to do some of the things which will be told of that the thoughtless would promptly put down as impossible The name by which I am known is one of the contradictions of my life Save only for my father who sympathized with my adventurous disposition at the same time that he tried to curb it I was at war with my family almost from the time I could talk I am a Republican in politics from the fact that they were active supporters of James Buchanan and I became a Southern sympathizer simply because they were bitterly opposed to slavery When I left home to become an adventurer around the globe I buried my real name and I do not propose to uncover it here or hereafter I am proud though of the fact that my family is descended from a King of Burgundy for since reaching years of discretion though I have been as loyal to the United States as any man since 1865 I never have believed in a republican form of government In the course of my activities I have used many names in many lands but that of Boynton which had been in the family for years stuck to me until I finally adopted it prefixing a George and a B which really stands for Boynton I made it my business to forget as soon as they had served my purpose the different names I took in response to the demand of expediency but I remember that Kinnear and Henderson were two under which I created some comment on opposite sides of the world

George Best - A Celebration: Untold True Stories of Our Most Legendary Footballer Bernie Smith & Maureen Hunt, 2008-09-01 George Best was one of the greatest footballers ever to have walked the Earth an absolute legend His ability as an all round player was and still is unsurpassed He was highly skilful a tough tackler and great in the air As well as being an exceptionally gifted sportsman George also had a unique gift when it came to people His open and friendly nature meant that others were naturally drawn to him and he always had time to get to know anyone and everyone Perhaps because of this George Best reached so many people As well as the legions of football fans who watched awestruck as he played he also touched the hearts of everyone with whom he came in contact on a day to day basis from club managers to the groundsmen at Old Trafford Bestie had time for them all it seems that almost everyone has a story to tell about him Bernie Smith is an avid collector of everything to do with the late great man and Maureen Hunt worked in the newspaper industry for over twenty years From banknotes to team photographs to signed shirts and even underwear there is not much out there relating to George that they don't know about or possess While gathering memorabilia they discovered that almost every keepsake souvenir or trophy has a humorous heart warming or poignant story attached to it Piecing together these gems of history they have compiled a fitting tribute to a genuine icon Take for example the incredible journey of the pair of limited edition George Best boots that ended up on a stall at Brick Lane market in London to eventually become the treasured possession of a man who idolised him or the boy whose house backed onto the United training ground and who would jump over the fence to stand at the back of the nets to watch the Best magic and act as a ball boy when necessary or even a gold thong signed by George himself that was bought at auction and left in a drawer until now Packed with anecdotes and rare photographs this delightful book will be a welcome addition to any Best fan's collection and is a wonderful way to commemorate the man who was who both hero and friend to so many people The genius of George Best on the football field is well documented as is the celebrity lifestyle which such genius often attracts This book gives an insight into the much less well known human side of his life and the many unsung acts of kindness which were so typical and which endeared him to everyone who was fortunate enough to know or meet him I count myself privileged to be amongst that number Doug Ellis President Emeritus Aston Villa Football Club George Best was a fine fellow to share company with off the football field It doesn't surprise me that the stories in this book celebrate the real side of George George had a snooker table in his house and he loved to play the game He was one of the nicest people you would ever wish to meet with a great sense of humour Dennis Taylor 1985 Embassy World Snooker Champion and fellow Belfast boy Beside can only be described in one word fantastic Ron Chopper Harris
