Democracy and the Rise of Women's Movements in Sub-Saharan Africa

Kathleen M. Fallon, 2008-08-08 Despite a late and fitful start democracy in Africa Latin America and Eastern Europe has recently shown promising growth Kathleen M Fallon discusses the role of women and women s advocacy groups in furthering the democratic transformation of formerly autocratic states Using Ghana as a case study Fallon examines the specific processes women are using to bring about political change She assesses information gathered from interviews and surveys conducted in Ghana and assays the existing literature to provide a focused look at how women have become involved in the democratization of sub Saharan nations The narrative traces the history of democratic institutions in the region from the imposition of male dominated mechanisms by western states to latter day reforms that reflect the active resurgence of women s political power within many African cultures to show how women have made significant recent political gains in Ghana and other emerging democracies Fallon attributes these advances to a combination of forces including the decline of the authoritarian state and its attendant state run women s organizations newly formed constitutions and newfound access to good governance funding She draws the study into the larger debate over gendered networks and democratic reform by exploring how gender roles affect and are affected by the state in Africa Latin America and Eastern Europe In demonstrating how women s activism is evolving with and shaping democratization across the region Democracy and the Rise of Women s Movements in Sub Saharan Africa reveals how women s social movements are challenging the barriers created by colonization and dictatorships in Africa and beyond IJER Vol 6-N4 International Journal of Educational Reform, 1997-10-01 The mission of the International Journal of Educational Reform IJER is to keep readers up to date with worldwide developments in education reform by providing scholarly information and practical analysis from recognized international authorities As the only peer reviewed scholarly publication that combines authors voices without regard for the political affiliations perspectives or research methodologies IJER provides readers with a balanced view of all sides of the political and educational mainstream To this end IJER includes but is not limited to inquiry based and opinion pieces on developments in such areas as policy administration curriculum instruction law and research IJER should thus be of interest to professional educators with decision making roles and policymakers at all levels turn since it provides a broad based conversation between and among policymakers practitioners and academicians about reform goals objectives and methods for success throughout the world Readers can call on IJER to learn from an international group of reform implementers by discovering what they can do that has actually worked IJER can also help readers to understand the pitfalls of current reforms in order to avoid making similar mistakes Finally it is the mission of IJER to help readers to learn about key issues in school reform from movers and shakers who help to study and shape the power base directing educational reform in the U S and the world Women in Ghana Elizabeth Ardayfio-Schandorf, Kate O.
