

THE STEADFASTNESS OF RAPTURABLE SAINTS

1 Corithians 15:51-53, 58; 1 Thessalonians 4:13-18

The word "steadfast" denotes firmness, steady, stable, unwavering, unshaken and loyalty in the face of trouble and difficulty. While rapture means being "caught up" to meet the Lord in the air at His coming.

The rapture describes the glorious event of the dead and living saints ascending to meet the Lord in the air at His coming. The saints refer to those who are redeemed by the blood of the lamb through acknowledgement, confession, repentance, forsaken of their sins and accepting Christ as the Lord and Saviour. The rapture is not for sinners, backsliders, religious people or reprobates therefore, every believer must be in a state of preparedness and readiness looking forward to the day of Christ's return. As children of God, we must be steadfast, unmovable in the work of the Lord as we expect his arrival at any time.

Enoch walked with God: and he ~~was~~ not; for God took him;

Enoch never expected the glorious departure to heaven without physical death on earth as he walked steadfastly with the Lord. Noah, Daniel, and Job were sighted by God Almighty to Prophet Ezekiel as case studies of saints that were righteous and stedfast till the end. They were stedfast in righthteousness and holy living. Their names were repeted over and over against as saints that could deliver their lives alone amidst national calamities through their steafasness and righteous living. Steadfastness in righteousness, holiness, purity will earn us unforgettable recognition here on earth and in heaven above.

Steadfastness Of The Saints:

Steadfastness of the Saints, 1985 Steadfastness of the Saints Daniel Berrigan, 1985 The great mystery of the great whore unfolded; and Antichrist's kingdom revealed unto destruction George Fox, 1831 Commentary on St. Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians John Macpherson, 1892 The teacher's Prayer book; the Book of common prayer, with introductions, analyses, and notes, by A. Barry Alfred Barry (bp. of Sydney), 1882 Catholics Writing the Nation in Early Modern Britain and Ireland Christopher Highley, 2008-07-10

Modern scholars fixated on the winners in England's sixteenth and seventeenth century religious struggles have too readily assumed the inevitability of Protestantism's historical triumph and have uncritically accepted the reformers' own rhetorical construction of themselves as embodiments of an authentic Englishness. Christopher Highley interrogates this narrative by examining how Catholics from the reign of Mary Tudor to the early seventeenth century contested and shaped discourses of national identity, patriotism, and Englishness. Accused by their opponents of espousing an alien religion orchestrated from Rome and sustained by Spain, English Catholics fought back by developing their own self-representations that emphasized how the Catholic faith was an ancient and integral part of true Englishness. After the accession of the Protestant Elizabeth, the Catholic imagining of England was mainly the project of the exiles who had left their homeland in search of religious toleration and foreign assistance. English Catholics constructed narratives of their own religious heritage and identity, however, not only in response to Protestant polemic but also as part of intra-Catholic rivalries that pitted Marian clergy against seminary priests, secular priests against Jesuits, and exiled English Catholics against their co-religionists from other parts of Britain and Ireland. Drawing on the reassessments of English Catholicism by John Bossy, Christopher Haigh, Alexandra Walsham, Michael Questier, and others, Catholics Writing the Nation foregrounds the faultlines within and between the various Catholic communities of the Atlantic archipelago. Eschewing any confessional bias, Highley's book is an interdisciplinary cultural study of an important but neglected dimension of Early Modern English Catholicism. In charting the complex Catholic engagement with questions of cultural and national identity, he discusses a range of genres, texts, and documents, both in print and manuscript, including ecclesiastical histories, polemical treatises, antiquarian tracts, and correspondence. His argument weaves together a rich historical narrative of people, events, and texts, while also offering contextualized close readings of specific works by figures such as Edmund Campion, Robert Persons, Thomas Stapleton, and Richard Verstegan.
