имени Н. П. Огарёва, Саранск (Россия)*

Статья подготовлена при финансовой поддержке Российского фонда фундаментальных исследований, проект «Конструирование социальной идентичности населения столиц республик в составе Российской Федерации (на примере Республики Мордовия и Удмуртской Республики)», грант РФФИ № 20-011-00588.

Введение. Целью статьи является анализ структуры столичной идентичности в республиках в составе Российской Федерации на примере столицы Мордовия г. Саранск.

Методы. На основании данных качественных (фокус-группы с горожанами) и количественного (массовый опрос населения города) социальных исследований автора выявляют основные компоненты социальной идентичности жителей Саранска, оценивают их значимость и потенциал трансформации для формирования стабильной городской самоидентификации населения.

Основные идеи исследования, полученные результаты и их обоснование. С целью выявления структурно-функциональных особенностей социальной идентичности населения столиц республик в составе Российской Федерации конкретизируются основные компоненты и уровни формирования столичной идентичности городов – административных центров республик, оцениваются степень сформированности и вклад отдельных компонентов столичной идентичности (этнонационального, гражданского, приморско-восточного, центр-периферийного). В исследовании выявлено амбивалентное представление горожан о Саранске как «провинциальной столице», занимающей доминирующее положение относительно остальной территории республик, но имеющей периферийный статус в российском социальном пространстве относительно более крупных региональных центров.

Заключение. В статье констатируется доминирование центр-периферийного компонента столичной идентичности Саранска над остальными, в то время как во взаимодействии культурно-символических механизмов позитива республиканской идентичности, включая этнокультурные, нейтрализуется высокой степенью удовлетворённости качеством городской среды и способствует формированию идентичности «гражданского города». В качестве альтернативы миграционному оттоку проблематизируется возможность перехода от экстенсивной к интенсивной модели развития городской среды в соответствии с потребностями горожан. Отмечается, что достижение необходимого для смысла приоритетов развития уровня зрелости гражданской идентичности ограничивается как инерцией сложившейся модели городской политики, так и миграционной привлекательностью и относительной близостью Москвы и столичного региона в качестве территорий, удобных для индивидуальной модернизации.
