Volcano And Miracle:

Volcano and Miracle Gustaw Herling-Grudziński, 1996 Volcano and Miracle is a selection of fiction and prose writings from Gustaw Herling's masterwork The Journal Written at Night. The Journal is an account of events and reflections that offer the occasion for this great writer to continue rethinking and reimagining the human condition. These remarkable selections from Gustaw Herling's Journal, written from 1970 to the present, include such astonishing fictional tales based on historical sources as Rubble, The Duke of Milan, The Miracle, and A Venetian Portrait, a love story that takes place at the end of World War II. But the heart of the Journal is brilliant critical pieces on Soviet Communism and literary gems on such writers as Ignazio Silone, Stendhal, Melville, Kafka, Dostoevsky, and Camus. The matter of miracles Helen Hills, 2021-02-02 This book investigates baroque architecture through the lens of San Gennaro's miraculously liquefying blood in Naples. This vantage point allows a bracing and thoroughly original rethink of the power of baroque relics and reliquaries. It shows how a focus on miracles produces original interpretations of architecture, sanctity, and place, which will engage architectural historians everywhere. The matter of the baroque miracle extends into a rigorous engagement with natural history, telluric philosophy, new materialism theory, and philosophy. The study will transform our understanding of baroque art and architecture, sanctity, and Naples. Bristling with new archival materials and historical insights, this study lifts the baroque from its previous marginalisation to engage fiercely with materiality and potentiality, and thus unleash baroque art and architecture as productive and transformational.
