Campbell Cowan Edgar,1905 The Purifying Knife Michael Phillips,Betsy Friauf,2025-06-03 A thoroughgoing look into a rare case where the eugenics movement failed in spite of its power in the United States and around the world while still wielding a toxic influence Phillips and Friauf s work offers insight into the history of the LGBTQ community abortion and immigration policies in Texas and persuasively argues that the long arc of eugenics history has helped shaped contemporary politics in the Lone Star State The Other American Dilemma Rubén Donato,Jarrood Hanson,2021-07-01 In The Other American Dilemma Rub n Donato and Jarrod Hanson examine the experiences of Mexican immigrants Mexican Americans and Hispanos as in their schools and communities between 1912 and 1953 Drawing from the Mexican Archives located in Mexico City and by venturing outside of the Southwest their examinations of specific communities in Arkansas California Colorado Kansas Louisiana and Texas shed new light on Mexicans social and educational experiences Donato and Hanson maintain that Mexicans whether recent immigrants American citizens or Hispanos as with deep roots in the United States were not seen as true Americans and were subject to unofficial school segregation and Jim Crow The book highlights similarities and differences between the ways the Mexican origin population and African Americans were treated Because of their mestizo heritage the Mexican origin population was seen as racially mixed and kept on the margins of community and school life by people in power The Film Maurice Jackson-Wrigley,1922 The English Catalogue of Books Sampson Low,1911 Volumes for 1898 1968 include a directory of publishers Seeing Nature Through Gender Virginia Scharff,2003 Environmental history has traditionally told the story of Man and Nature Scholars have too frequently overlooked the ways in which their predominantly male subjects have themselves been shaped by gender Seeing Nature through Gender here reintroduces gender as a meaningful category of analysis for environmental history showing how women s actions desires and choices have shaped the world and seeing men as gendered actors as well In thirteen essays that show how gendered ideas have shaped the ways in which people have represented experienced and consumed their world Virginia Scharff and her coauthors explore interactions between gender and environment in history Ranging from colonial borderlands to transnational boundaries from mountaintop to marketplace they focus on historical representations of humans and nature on questions about consumption on environmental politics and on the complex reciprocal relations among human bodies and changing landscapes They also challenge the ecofeminist position by challenging the notion that men and women are essentially different creatures with biologically different destinies Each article shows how a person or group of people in history have understood nature in gendered terms and acted accordingly often with dire consequences for other people and organisms Here are considerations of the ways we study sexuality among birds of William Byrd s masking sexual encounters in his account of an eighteenth century expedition of how the ecology of fire in a changing built environment has reshaped firefighters own gendered identities Some are playful as in a piece on the evolution of snow bunnies to shred betties Others are dead serious as in a chilling portrait of how endocrine disrupters are reinventing humans animals and water systems from the cellular level out Aiding and adding significantly to the enterprise of environmental history Seeing Nature through Gender bridges gender history and environmental history in unexpected ways to show us how the natural world can remake the gendered patterns we ve engraved on ourselves and on the planet
