The Grace of Four Moons Pravina Shukla,2015-10-16 Because clothing food and shelter are basic human needs they provide excellent entries to cultural values and individual aesthetics Everyone gets dressed every day but body art has not received the attention it deserves as the most common and universal of material expressions of culture The Grace of Four Moons aims to document the clothing decisions made by ordinary people in their everyday lives Based on fieldwork conducted primarily in the city of Banaras India Pravina Shukla conceptualizes and realizes a total model for the study of body art understood as all aesthetic modifications and supplementations to the body Shukla urges the study of the entire process of body art from the assembly of raw materials and the manufacture of objects through their sale and the interactions between merchants and consumers to the consumer s use of objects in creating personal decoration

Everyday Conversions Attiya Ahmad,2017-03-09 Why are domestic workers converting to Islam in the Arabian Peninsula and Persian Gulf region In Everyday Conversions Attiya Ahmad presents us with an original analysis of this phenomenon Using extensive fieldwork conducted among South Asian migrant women in Kuwait Ahmad argues domestic workers Muslim belonging emerges from their work in Kuwaiti households as they develop Islamic piety in relation but not opposition to their existing religious practices family ties and ethnic and national belonging Their conversion is less a clean break from their preexisting lives than it is a refashioning in response to their everyday experiences In examining the connections between migration labor gender and Islam Ahmad complicates conventional understandings of the dynamics of religious conversion and the feminization of transnational labor migration while proposing the concept of everyday conversion as a way to think more broadly about emergent forms of subjectivity affinity and belonging

Women, Wellbeing, and the Ethics of Domesticity in an Odia Hindu Temple Town Usha Menon,2013-03-01 This book is a detailed ethnography of traditional predominantly upper caste sequestered Hindu women in the temple town of Bhubaneswar in Odisha a state in eastern India It elaborates on a distinctive paradigm of domesticity and explicates a particular model of human wellbeing among this category Part of the growing literature in third wave or multicultural feminism it seeks to broaden the parameters of feminist discourse by going beyond questions of individual liberty or gender equality to examine the potential for female empowerment that exists in the context of these women s lives Its aims are twofold first to represent these women in ways that they themselves would recognize and second to interpret rather than merely translate the beliefs and practices of the temple town such that their underlying logic becomes readily accessible to readers even those unfamiliar with the Hindu world

Aging and Loss Jason Danely, 2015-01-02 By 2030 over 30% of the Japanese population will be 65 or older foreshadowing the demographic changes occurring elsewhere in Asia and around the world What can we learn from a study of the aging population of Japan and how can these findings inform a path forward for the elderly their families and for policy makers Based on nearly a decade of research Aging and Loss examines how the landscape of aging is felt understood and embodied by older adults themselves In detailed portraits anthropologist Jason Danely delves into the everyday lives of older Japanese adults as they construct narratives through acts of reminiscence social engagement and ritual practice and reveals the pervasive cultural aesthetic of loss and of being a burden Through first hand accounts of rituals in homes cemeteries and religious centers Danely argues that what he calls the self in suspense can lead to the emergence of creative participation in an economy of care In everyday rituals for the spirits older adults exercise agency and reinterpret concerns of social abandonment within a meaningful cultural narrative and by reimagining themselves and their place in the family through these rituals older adults in Japan challenge popular attitudes about eldercare Danely's discussion of health and long term care policy and community welfare organizations reveal a complex picture of Japan's aging society Feminist Periodicals, 2004 'When Women Unite!' Marie-Louise Larsson, 2006 The Psychology of Women Margaret W. International, 2004 Silver Generation in India Nirmal Ruprail, 2002 Population Bulletin of the United Nations United Nations. Department of Economic and Social Affairs, 2001 Participation and Social Learning in Church-based Organizations Peter Obele Abue, 2006 Shamans of the Foye Tree Ana Mariella Bacigalupo, 2007-04-01 Drawing on anthropologist Ana Mariella Bacigalupo's fifteen years of field research Shamans of the Foye Tree Gender Power and Healing among Chilean Mapuche is the first study to follow shamans gender identities and performance in a variety of ritual social sexual and political contexts To Mapuche shamans or machi the foye tree is of special importance not only for its medicinal qualities but also because of its hermaphroditic flowers which reflect the gender shifting components of machi healing practices Framed by the cultural constructions of gender and identity Bacigalupo's fascinating findings span the ways in which the Chilean state stigmatizes the machi as witches and sexual deviants how shamans use paradoxical discourses about gender to legitimize themselves as healers and at the same time as modern men and women the tree's political use as a symbol of resistance to national ideologies and other components of these rich traditions The first comprehensive study on Mapuche shamans gendered practices Shamans of the Foye Tree offers new perspectives on this crucial intersection of spiritual social and political power Anthropos, 2001 India. The Influence of Disability on Gender Roles and Identity Nejlá Demirkaya, 2015-10-01 Seminar paper from the year 2015 in the subject Asian studies grade 1 0 University of Göttingen Centre for Modern Indian Studies course Disability and Society Global Historical Perspectives language English abstract The Indian feminist movement has until recently neglected the plight of those women that are not healthy and functional in the normative sense but rather impaired and thus almost consequently disabled By taking disability into account the general burden of being born female might become evident in even sharper contrast In order to achieve a more complete picture and understand the mechanisms behind gender ideologies in the context of disability the situation of the disabled men needs to be considered as well This way a comparative analysis of the impact gender ideologies exert on persons with disabilities PWD of different sexes is possible How does incapacity physical or intellectual affect the standing of a PWD in the eyes of their community and subsequently their general outlook in life In what ways does the experience of disability influence the perception and performance of culturally determined gender roles and gender identities Due to India being so culturally diverse no single formulation can be given that encompasses all the different ways in which disability is viewed and experienced The study of the disabled experience of men and women in relation to gender is impossible without taking into account the ideological background upon which gendered ideals norms and expectations are socially constructed Thus before delving deeper into the literature review an outline of the construction of personhood as well as the perspectives on disability in the Indian context shall be given Afterwards an analysis of the different gender specific challenges but also opportunities for identity negotiation of men and women with disabilities is attempted consecutively In this section it will be shown that men generally suffer from the same normative ideals as women albeit to a lesser extent depending on their impairment its degree and also their social setting
