Teaching World Cinema:

Teaching World Cinema Kate Gamm, Vivienne Clark, 2004-04-02 Is there such a thing as World Cinema? Is it simply cinema that isn't from Hollywood? Is British or European Cinema part of World Cinema or is World Cinema something other than our own? These key questions are addressed in this guide which provides teachers with a comprehensive and detailed approach to teaching World Cinema. Investigates the concepts of World Cinema and National Cinema. Considers place of the auteur in World Cinema. Gives examples of World Cinema in their historical and cultural contexts. Discusses finance and distribution. Case studies look at Hong Kong, Scandinavia and France and the films Chungking Express, Show me Love and La Haine. World Cinema through Global Genres William V. Costanzo, 2014-01-28 World Cinema through Global Genres introduces the complex forces of global filmmaking using the popular concept of film genre. The cluster-based organization allows students to acquire a clear understanding of core issues that apply to all films around the world. Innovative pedagogical approach that uses genres to teach the more unfamiliar subject of world cinema. A cluster-based organization provides a solid framework for students to acquire a sharper understanding of core issues that apply to all films around the world. A deep focus section in each chapter gives students information and insights about important regions of filmmaking: India, China, Japan, and Latin America that tend to be underrepresented in world cinema classes. Case studies allow students to focus on important and accessible individual films that exemplify significant traditions and trends. A strong foundation chapter reviews key concepts and vocabulary for understanding film as an art form, a technology, a business, an index of culture, a social barometer, and a political force. The engaging style and organization of the book make it a compelling text for both world cinema and film genre courses. World Cinema Shekhar Deshpande, Meta Mazaj, 2018-01-17 World Cinema: A Critical Introduction is a comprehensive yet accessible guide to film industries across the globe. From the 1980s onwards, new technologies and increased globalization have radically altered the landscape in which films are distributed and exhibited. Films are made from the large-scale industries of India, Hollywood, and Asia to the small productions in Bhutan and Morocco. They are seen in multiplexes, palatial art cinemas in Cannes, traveling theatres in rural India, and on millions of hand-held mobile screens. Authors Deshpande and Mazaj have developed a method of charting this new world cinema that makes room for divergent perspectives, traditions, and positions while also revealing their interconnectedness and relationships of meaning. In doing so, they bring together a broad range of issues and examples, theoretical concepts, viewing and production practices, film festivals, large industries such as Nollywood and Bollywood, and smaller and emerging film cultures into a systemic yet flexible map of world cinema. The multi-layered approach of this book aims to do justice to the depth, dynamism, and complexity of the phenomenon of world cinema. For students looking to films outside of their immediate context, this book offers a blueprint that will enable them to transform a casual encounter with a film into a systematic inquiry into world cinema.
