Indigenous Peoples' Land Rights under International Law Jérémie Gilbert,2016-06-21 This book addresses the right of indigenous peoples to live own and use their traditional territories and analyses how international law addresses this Through its meticulous examination of the interaction between international law and indigenous peoples land rights the work explores several burning issues such as collective rights self determination property rights cultural rights and restitution of land It delves into the notion of past violations and the role of international law in providing for remedies reparation and restitution It also argues that there is a new phase in the relationship between States indigenous peoples and private actors such as corporations in the making of territorial agreements The first edition of this ground breaking book was published in 2006 at the time the negotiations for the adoption of the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples UNDRIP were still underway The adoption of the Declaration in 2007 marks an important moment not only in terms of law making but also represents the achievement of long decades of lobbying and advocacy from indigenous peoples representatives This fully revised new edition reflects on the 10 years which have followed the adoption of the UNDRIP and examines its impact regarding indigenous peoples land rights Its aim is not only to assess the importance of the UNDRIP in terms of international standards but also to reflect on the maturing of international law in relation to indigenous peoples land rights Over the last 10 years these have reached a new level of visibility and a voluminous new jurisprudence and doctrine have been developed. Praise for the first edition Gilbert's passion for his subject is palpable and illuminates every page as do his zeal to expose international law's complicity in indigenous peoples' loss of their territories and tentative hope that international law might now provide some protection of indigenous peoples' lands. The choice of topic is also to be applauded. There are few texts that examine indigenous peoples' land rights in such depth. Claire Charters, Associate Professor, University of Auckland, New Zealand, in International and Comparative Law Quarterly (ICLQ). Gilbert's gaze is firmly fixed on the future and the question how international law will reflect lex ferenda on indigenous land rights. His interpretation of international law must be seen in this light. He is looking beyond the current controversies in the rights discourse towards a more conciliatory phase in state-indigenous relations. International law undoubtedly has an important role to play in his vision but its primary function is to facilitate dialogue rather than as a combative and adversarial mechanism. Gilbert's book is a tour de force on indigenous territoriality. Stephen Allen, Senior Lecturer in Law, Queen Mary University, London, United Kingdom, in International Journal on Minority and Group Rights. Roar of the Lion Frank Coates, 2010-01-31. An epic story of a man who risked life and love to challenge Africa. From the bestselling author of TEARS OF THE MAASAI BEYOND MOMBASA and IN SEARCH OF AFRICA. Love or empire, ambition or greed. What drives a man to walk from the Cape to Cairo? Ewart Grogan, known to the Africans as Bwana Simba, the man with the cold stare of the lion, is a man of unwavering self-confidence. From his early days fighting for Cecil Rhodes in the Matabele wars, Grogan's passion uniquely equipped him to conquer a continent. He risked all to trek across darkest Africa for the woman he loves and has gone on to dominate the business world of the burgeoning new colony of British East Africa. Domination has come at a price, however. Now the Great War points its bloody finger towards Africa. And Grogan faces his greatest ordeal and his most wrenching choice. Praise for Frank Coates's novels: blockbuster adventure with authenticity. WEEKEND AUSTRALIAN, engaging and entertaining. THE ADVERTISER. The Clouds Beneath the Sun Mackenzie Ford, 2012-03-06. Kenya 1961. When Natalie Nelson's plane lands at a remote airstrip in the Serengeti, she knows she's run just about as far as she can from home. Trained as an archaeologist, she accepted an invitation to join a famous excavating team in order to escape England and the painful memories of her past. But before she can get her bearings, the dig is surrounded by controversy involving the local Maasai people, and Natalie is swept up in a passionate affair that threatens to spark even more violence and turmoil. The startling beauty of Africa, the tension of looming social upheaval, and the dizzying highs of a doomed love affair are all captured brilliantly in this extraordinary and utterly unforgettable novel. Australian Book Review, 2005. Kaapse bibliotekaris, 2006.
