Early Media Effects Theory & the Suggestion Doctrine: Selected Readings, 1895-1935 Patrick Parsons, 2024-12-22 While much has been written on the history of media effects research in the United States a casual review of the literature could reasonably lead one to believe that little if any such work was conducted until the 1940s The anthology consisting of over 30 public domain works originally publishing from the late 19th century to the mid 1930s demonstrates the rich and varied study of media effects before mid century much of it centered on the concept of suggestion What media scholars know today as persuasion social psychologists of the early 1900s would have understood as the process of suggestion The works collected in Early Media Effects Theory the Suggestion Doctrine include the original statements on the subject from many of the leading social theorists of the age among them figures such as Gabriel Tarde and Gustave Le Bon in France and James Baldwin Edward Ross and Floyd Allport in the United States
