Grizzlies & White Guys Clayton Mack, Harvey Thommasen, 1993 The extraordinary life story of Clayton Mack 1910 1993 a legendary hunting guide from the Nuxalk Nation Bella Coola is told in his own words To Clayton Mack who loved the wilderness and whose most precious memories were of the days when people got around without roads told time without watches and took planks from giant cedars without axes the two most mysterious creatures on earth were grizzly bears and Quimsciwas white men from Crooked Jaw the Indian Agent to the rich and famous men who hired him to guide them on their trophy hunts The tales are told by a natural storyteller who as a child was carried as a prop in Native ceremonial dances and who later found himself dining in Hollywood restaurants with California's most powerful people His stories are wild and bawdy and funny and tragic and they reach back through history They are like native ritual dances in that it's impossible to separate the magic from the realism at the end you will wonder what was real and what was dream The amazing thing is it's all true It's all true Mark Hume journalist for the Vancouver Sun National Post and author of The Run of the River attempts to give an honest portrayal of my life much lived in America's black world. The Black world of America from my experiences is very much different than that of White America, profoundly so. I found through my experiences, study, and observations that there is a dislike and hatred, may not be too strong a word to describe the feeling prevalent in Black America. I don't feel my description is in any way an exaggeration. I am also the author of more than one hundred essays on race, Black racism, and a proponent for the adaptation of a new college course, may be adaptable for high school juniors and seniors, titled Comparative Racism. I also describe my fourteen years policing in Black neighborhoods with a Black partner. I look at police corruption, corrupt city officials, and I describe my personal experiences and knowledge of events and members of the Chicago's south suburban mafia. I give insight into personal experiences with Black racists and racism at various levels in Black America. I covered my time as a White student at an HBCU and my many intimacies with Black sisters, including my marriage to a Black woman. Sex crime, corruption, mafia, racism, hatred, corporate intrigues, it's all between these pages, much of which I am not proud. I am not Black, but I know I had a perch few other White people have had in my personal experiences. You be the judge, but for me, I am not optimistic about the future of Black and White America. Tell me it ain't so.
