Baroque Aesthetics in Contemporary American Horror Gabriel Eljaiek-Rodríguez, 2021-12-10 This book traces a trend that has emerged in recent years within the modern panorama of American horror film and television: the concurrent and often overwhelming use of multiple stock characters, themes, and tropes taken from classics of the genre. American Horror Story, Insidious, and The Conjuring are examples of a filmic tendency to address a series of topics and themes so vast that at first glance each taken separately would seem to suffice for individual films or shows. This book explores this trend in its visible connections with American Horror but also with cultural and artistic movements from outside the US, namely Baroque art and architecture, Asian Horror, and European Horror. It analyzes how these hybrid products are constructed and discusses the socio-political issues that they raise. The repeated and excessive barrage of images, tropes, and scenarios from distinct subgenres of iconic horror films come together to make up an aesthetic that is referred to in this book as Baroque Horror. In many ways similar to the reactions provoked by the artistic movement of the same name that flourished in the XVII century, these productions induce shock, awe, fear, and surprise. Eljaiek-Rodríguez details how American directors and filmmakers construct these narratives using different and sometimes disparate elements that come together to function as a whole, terrifying the audience through their frenetic accumulation of images, tropes, and plot twists. The book also addresses some of the effects that these complex films and series have produced both in the panorama of contemporary horror as well as in how we understand politics in a divisive world that pushes for ideological homogenizations.

Advances in Experimental Philosophy of Action Paul Henne, Samuel Murray, 2023-04-20 What is self-control? Does a person need to be conscious to act? Are delusions always irrational? Questions such as these are fundamental for investigations into action and rationality, as well as how we assign responsibility for wrongdoing and assess clinical symptoms. Bridging the gap between philosophy and psychology, this interdisciplinary collection showcases how empirical research informs and enriches core questions in the philosophy of action. Exploring issues such as truth, moral judgment, agency, consciousness, and cognitive control, chapters offer an overview of the current state of research, present new empirical findings, and identify where future experimental work can further advance the frontier between philosophy and psychology. This is an essential resource for anyone looking to better understand how science and philosophy can meaningfully inform our knowledge of human agency Paranormal Case 9 Derek Abbot, 2024-11-07 Detective Elara Monroe has seen her fair share of strange cases but nothing could prepare her for Case 9 a haunting mystery that has left even the toughest investigators shaken When a series of unexplained deaths linked to an old abandoned mental asylum begins to terrorize the city Elara is reluctantly drawn into the investigation Each victim is found with strange symbols etched into their skin and every clue seems to lead back to the asylum s dark and twisted history As Elara delves deeper she learns that this isn t just any haunting The asylum was once the site of brutal experiments on paranormal anomalies people believed to have supernatural abilities Rumors of vengeful spirits experiments gone wrong and curses lingered long after its closure but the truth had always been buried Now those restless souls appear to be seeking revenge Haunted by visions inexplicable whispers and chilling apparitions Elara becomes the next target of whatever lurks in the shadows She soon realizes that her only chance to survive is to solve the mystery of the asylum s past and lay the spirits to rest But Case 9 is more than just a case it s a dangerous doorway into a world of supernatural horrors where every step brings her closer to uncovering a truth no one was meant to find Paranormal Case 9 is a gripping tale of terror suspense and the supernatural where the line between the living and the dead blurs and Elara must face horrors beyond imagination In this investigation some questions are best left unanswered and some doors better left closed The Paranormal Source Book Jenny Randles, 1999 This revised edition contains all the main paranormal topics ranging from apparitions and zoological mysteries to ball lightning crop circles ESP poltergeists premonitions and UFOs as well as new information on conspiracy theories ancient wisdom and electronic pollution The author gives details of the main cases in each area plus up to the minute events thinking research and experiments It also offers a comprehensive reading list of books and publications available within each topic and addresses of recommended research organisations around the world The Ghost Hunter's Favorite Cases Hans Holzer, 2003
