Phillips Oppenheim,2015-07-12 Excerpt from The Yellow Crayon At last it seemed that his unnatural fit had passed away He stretched out his hand and struck a silver gong which had been left within his reach Almost immediately a man pale faced with full dark eyes and olive complexion dressed in the sombre garb of an indoor servant stood at his elbow Duseon Your Grace Bring wine Burgundy It was before him served with almost incredible despatch a small cobwebbed bottle and a glass of quaint shape on which were beautifully emblazoned a coronet and fleur de lis He drank slowly and deliberately

When he set the glass down it was empty Duseon Your Grace You will pack my things and your own We shall leave for New York this evening Telegraph to the Holland House for rooms For how many days your Grace We shall not return here Pay off all the servants save two of the most trustworthy who will remain as caretakers The man's face was as immovable as his master's And Madame Madame will not be returning She will have no further use for her maid See however that her clothes and all her personal belongings remain absolutely undisturbed Has your Grace any further orders About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
