Pugin, 1895      True Principles A.W. Pugin, Augustus Welby Northmore Pugin, 2003 True Principles of Pointed or Christian Architecture was first published in 1841 when Pugin was 29 years old Here he presents coherent arguments for the revival of the Gothic style the case for which he had made pictorially in his sensational book Contrasts 1836 For Pugin the Gothic Revival was not a style but a principle and this he laid down in his most influential architectural treatise True Principles which introduced functionalist and rationalist as well as moral criteria into architectural discourse much of it still resonant in the twentieth century Modern Movement It is reprinted together with his Apology for the Revival of Christian Architecture first printed in 1843 Much of his thought here is on architectural education and in shuffling off the straitjacket of neoclassical architectural principles Pugin exercised a great influence in mid Victorian architecture and the applied arts and in a wider design reform movement These two seminal books presented in one volume are introduced by the architectural historian and Pugin authority Dr Roderick O Donnell      The True Principles of Pointed Or Christian Architecture Augustus Welby Northmore Pugin, 1973      The True Principles of Pointed Or Christian Architecture A.W.N. Pugin, 1969      Contrasts Augustus Welby Northmore Pugin, 2003 2012 Edition Contrasts and The True Principles of Pointed or Christian Architecture are the two key texts of the Gothic Revival The young architect and designer A W N Pugin completed his original edition of Contrasts in 1836 shortly after hearing that the scheme he had drawn up for Charles Barry had won the competition for the design of the new Houses of Parliament At the time he was known mainly as a prodigy a brilliant designer and draughtsman of Gothic architecture and ornament but the publication of his book quickly transformed him into the figurehead of the Revival Five years later he published his True Principles which converted the dry humour and polemics of his earlier book into a series of accessible and persuasive instructions for architects who wanted to work in the revived style This facsimile edition of the familiar 1841 versions of both books is presented in association with The Pugin Society      A World History of Art Hugh Honour, John Fleming, 2005 Over two decades this art historical tour de force has consistently proved the classic introduction to humanity's artistic heritage From our paleolithic past to our digitised present every continent and culture is covered in an articulate and well balanced discussion In this Seventh Edition the text has been revised to embrace developments in archaeology and art historical research while the renowned contemporary art historian Michael Archer has greatly expanded the discussion of the past twenty years providing a new perspective on the latest developments The insight elegance and fluency that the authors bring to their text are complemented by 1458 superb illustrations half of which are now in colour These images together with the numerous maps and architectural plans have been chosen to represent the most significant chronological regional and individual styles of artistic expression

Craft Theory and Contemporary Architecture Grant Alford, 2025-05-28 This book offers a comprehensive exploration of craft theory in relation to contemporary architecture Craft is an old and familiar idea but the line between craft and art or craft and mere manufacturing for example is notoriously hard to describe In architecture a similarly blurred line between the design process on the one hand and the physical making of buildings on the other lies at the center of various debates about what it means to do architecture The growth and development of craft theory in recent years suggest new insights into these architectural debates but situating the meaning of craft within architecture within today's technological landscape is a complex problem Alford responds to this challenge by collecting various narratives from craft theory and other fields and discerning among them new lenses through which to view contemporary architectural practice Episodes from this expanded view of craft in architecture go beyond predictable accounts of Ruskin and Morris to envision new models of practice new ways of engaging other building professionals and new ways for architects to understand their own labor and the nature of how and what kinds of things they themselves craft Architecture is changing and within the ongoing story of craft explored in this book are new and surprising ways to understand design and construct the built environment Written for students and scholars this book challenges and extends the legacy of craft thinking in architecture
