Theodore Gericault: Drawings and Paintings Raya Yotova, 2018-05-14 Theodore Gericault 1791 1824 was an influential French painter and lithographer known for The Raft of the Medusa and other paintings Although he died young he was one of the pioneers of the Romantic movement Born in Rouen France Gericault was educated in the tradition of English sporting art by Carle Vernet and classical figure composition by Pierre Narcisse Guerin a rigorous classicist who disapproved of his student's impulsive temperament while recognizing his talent Gericault soon left the classroom choosing to study at the Louvre where from 1810 to 1815 he copied paintings by Rubens Titian Velazquez and Rembrandt During this period at the Louvre he discovered a vitality he found lacking in the prevailing school of Neoclassicism Much of his time was spent in Versailles where he found the stables of the palace open to him and where he gained his knowledge of the anatomy and action of horses Gericault's first major work The Charging Chasseur exhibited at the Paris Salon of 1812 revealed the influence of the style of Rubens and an interest in the depiction of contemporary subject matter This youthful success ambitious and monumental was followed by a change in direction for the next several years Gericault produced a series of small studies of horses and cavalymen He exhibited Wounded Cuirassier at the Salon in 1814 a work more labored and less well received Gericault in a fit of disappointment entered the army and served for a time in the garrison of Versailles In the nearly two years that followed the 1814 Salon he also underwent a self imposed study of figure construction and composition all the while evidencing a personal predilection for drama and expressive force A trip to Florence Rome and Naples 1816-17 prompted in part by the desire to flee from a romantic entanglement with his aunt ignited a fascination with Michelangelo Rome itself inspired the preparation of a monumental canvas The Race of the Barberi Horses a work of epic composition and abstracted theme that promised to be entirely without parallel in its time In the event Gericault never completed the painting and returned to France In 1821 he painted The Derby of Epsom Gericault continually returned to the military themes of his early paintings and the series of lithographs he undertook on military subjects after his return from Italy are considered some of the earliest masterworks in that medium Perhaps his most significant and certainly most ambitious work is The Raft of the Medusa 1818-1819 which depicted the aftermath of a contemporary French shipwreck Meduse in which the captain had left the crew and passengers to die The classical depiction of the figures and structure of the composition stand in contrast to the turbulence of the subject so that the painting constitutes an important bridge between neo-classicism and romanticism The painting ignited political controversy when first exhibited at the Paris Salon of 1819 it then traveled to England in 1820 accompanied by Gericault himself where it received much praise While in London Gericault witnessed urban poverty made drawings of his impressions and published lithographs based on these observations which were free of sentimentality After his return to France in 1821 Gericault was inspired to paint a series of ten portraits of the insane There are five remaining portraits from the series including Insane Woman Gericault's last efforts were directed toward preliminary studies for several epic compositions including The Opening of the Doors of the Spanish Inquisition and The African Slave Trade The preparatory drawings suggest works of great ambition but Gericault's waning health intervened Weakened by riding accidents and chronic tubercular infection he died in Paris in 1824 after a long period of suffering

Theodore Gericault Da Capo Press, Incorporated, 1968-01-01 Théodore Géricault Nina Athanassoglou-Kallmyer, 2010-10-20 This new monograph explores the life and works of Theodore Gericault 1791-1824 whose compelling career and legacy continue to captivate audiences artists and critics alike In her comprehensive survey Nina Athanassoglou Kallmyer pays tribute to established Gericault scholarship while reassessing the career of an artist too easily miscast as the archetypal tortured soul of art historical Romantic mythology She examines Géricault's career in the context of France under the Restoration during which Louis XVIII's controversial rule resulted in vigorous popular debate over civic structures the political process and even aesthetic categories Géricault immersed himself in these polemics taking an intense interest in the faits divers or daily happenings of his time The author explores his interest in medical and psychiatric science as exemplified by a series of portraits of mental patients his empathy for the poor and dispossessed the subject of numerous lithographs and the entrepreneurial spirit that led him to exhibit his epic canvas the Raft of the Medusa in London as a commercial venture Géricault is presented as an artist committed to capturing contemporary life with creative integrity and dramatic verve Born into a provincial middle class family Géricault used an inheritance from his mother's death to pursue his artistic vocation training first under Vernet and Guerin before spending four years on his own course of independent study His choice of Renaissance and Baroque masters such as Titian Caravaggio and Rubens as models shaped his aesthetic agenda and encouraged him to break away from the Neoclassicism favored by his early tutors Further influenced by a vogue for modern military subjects Géricault presented himself at the 1812 Salon with the dashing Charging Chasseur a critical success that the artist was unable to repeat when he presented again at the Salon three years later A period of stylistic experimentation followed Géricault traveled to Rome to absorb classical examples and strove to develop his grand style The effort spent in Rome served Géricault well when he returned to France and began work on the Raft of the Medusa a politically charged project that absorbed the painter in obsessive study for more than a year In her analysis of this enduring image Athanassoglou Kallmyer addresses the perception of Géricault as a tragic figure drawn by temperament to the depiction of morbid and macabre themes discussing this painting among others in the context of Romantic taste for the Gothic and its political and artistic implications Géricault suffered a nervous breakdown in 1819 following the Medusa's disappointing reception at the Salon and retreated to England where he abandoned grand projects in favor of lighter more fashionable work It was not until 1823 on his deathbed that Géricault's interest in large scale work was revived and he produced a wealth of sketches for future compositions These plans full of energy and drama serve to suggest why this immensely talented artist has continued to influence artists from the time of his death to the present
