Identifying Primary and Secondary Sources: The American Revolution

Historians use many types of sources to study past events.

Primary sources are made by people who witness historical events. These sources are usually created when the events took place.

Examples:

- newspaper articles

- diaries
- letters

Secondary sources are made by historians or other people who research historical events. These sources are usually created after the events took place.

Examples:

- history books
- textbooks
- scholarly articles
- documentaries

Directions: Read the table containing different sources about the American Revolution (1775-1783). Put a check mark to show whether each source is primary or secondary.
