Sources Of Chinese Tradition 2vol:

China and the International System, 1840-1949 David Scott, 2008-11-07 As China continues its rapid ascent within the international system questions of where it came from have particular relevance Combining history with international relations theory David Scott considers China's first substantive modern period of encounter with the West from 1840 through 1949 a period characterized as the Century of Humiliation During this time China fell from Middle Kingdom preeminence to a position in the international system that remained an enigmatic and challenging one too strong to be taken over as a colony yet not strong enough to shape its own destiny At the heart of Scott's study is encounter and with it questions of power presence and perceptions He examines the images hopes and fears that were evoked during China's century long subservience to external powers including opposing views of China as a threat or China as the sick man of Asia and the West as evil or the West as savior China and the Chinese are explored in terms of their interaction with the international system with a particular focus on America and Australia

A Translation of the Ancient Chinese : the Book of Burial (Zang Shu) by Guo Pu (276-324) Juwen Zhang, 2004 The Book of Burial defined fengshui for the first time it integrated various local beliefs and practices into the dominant Confucian tradition It is therefore key to any understanding of Chinese culture Based on the edition of the Book of Burial Zang Shu most popular during the last millennium this translation makes available the text that links the widespread Chinese practice of fengshui geomancy to the fundamental beliefs and moral principles of Chinese culture This annotation and commentary serve to place the text and the history of burial ritual in the proper cultural context The translator's introduction which explores the questions of the interaction between elite and folk culture and the continuity of tradition suggests an interdisciplinary approach to the study of fengshui

The Perception of Maritime Space in Traditional Chinese Sources Angela Schottenhammer, Roderich Ptak, 2006 The present collection of essays has originally been prepared for an international conference entitled Maritime Space in Traditional Chinese Sources which has been convened by the editors at Munich University in February 2005 The contributions included here introduce various aspects related to East Asian seas from the Japanese Sea to the South China Sea with the Yellow and East China Seas constituting the core regions of the entire area and some of its adjacent areas Although Braudelian categories are inherently present in the discussion and directly addressed in one or two papers the focus lies on a set of more basic variables which are intimately linked to the idea of contact zones or alternatively the parallel and apparently older notion that the sea should be seen as a protective belt around the mainland This volume is consequently primarily concerned with the perception of maritime space in traditional Chinese sources the division of this space into oceans and seas the existence usage and management of trade routes and above all of China's coastal waters or maritime periphery For this purpose in addition to textual sources maps will be examined as well As the perception division and management of maritime space cannot be completely disassociated from other themes such as trade and travel diplomacy and military controls or even daily life during a sea voyage these aspects were also touched upon in the discussion But they are of secondary importance and subordinated to the general issue of geography With this in mind following an introductory essay by Angela Schottenhammer the contributions are divided into three sections 1 Maritime Space Trade and Defence 2 Maritime Space Coasts Routes Oceans 3 Maritime Space and Maps The articles by Chang Pin tsun Jane Kate Leonard and Jung Byung chul fall into the first category Those by Chen Bo Liu Yingsheng Sally K Church Christine Moll Murata Li Tana and Mathieu Torck belong to the second group while the last section is comprised by the papers of Li Xiacong Claudine Salmon and Roderich Ptak There are many cross connections between these essays Geographically some of them pertain to the northern spheres especially the Liaodong Korea region others look at the South China Sea or even at areas far beyond these two Some are case studies others deal with general dimensions The military element usually in the form of coastal defence is not only present in the first section but also in the cartographic segment and in one or two contributions which appear in part two Furthermore readers will find that the idea of contact zones associated with a good degree of open mindedness towards the outer world is present in some texts just as they will discover that in other cases the sea still appears as a kind of barrier
