The Crown and the Capitalists Wasana Wongsurawat, 2019-11-18 Despite competing with much larger imperialist neighbors in Southeast Asia the Kingdom of Thailand or Siam as it was formerly known has succeeded in transforming itself into a rival modern nation state over the last two centuries Recent historiography has placed progress or lack thereof toward Western style liberal democracy at the center of Thailand s narrative but that view underestimates the importance of the colonial context In particular a long standing relationship with China and the existence of a large and important Chinese diaspora within Thailand have shaped development at every stage As the emerging nation struggled against colonial forces in Southeast Asia ethnic Chinese entrepreneurs were neither a colonial force against whom Thainess was identified nor had they been able to fully assimilate into Thai society Wasana Wongsurawat demonstrates that the Kingdom of Thailand s transformation into a modern nation state required the creation of a national identity that justified not only the hegemonic rule of monarchy but also the involvement of the ethnic Chinese entrepreneurial class upon whom it depended Her revisionist view traces the evolution of this codependent relationship through the twentieth century as Thailand struggled against colonial forces in Southeast Asia found itself an ally of Japan in World War II and reconsidered its relationship with China in the postwar era

The Riddle of Malaysian Capitalism Peter Searle,1998-11-01 Is capitalism in Southeast Asia real or a chimera that is some Southeast Asian derivative of capitalism that ultimately will not be sustainable Malaysia where an intimate relationship has been forged between the state and business in an effort to create Malay capitalists presents an interesting and illuminating case in the debate In this work Peter Searle identifies the complex interaction between the state the dominant political party UMNO and business as the source of dynamism or defeat in the development of Malay capitalists He also challenges a common view that Chinese business groups are completely different from Malay business groups Overall this study argues against drawing sharp contrasts between dependency and self reliance between state and capital and between rent seekers and true productive capitalists For it is from that amalgam of categories and groups the study concludes that a form of capitalism is emerging in Malaysia which is nonetheless remarkably dynamic and resilient despite its unorthodox origins
