Studies in Chaucer's House of Fame Wilbur Owen Sypher, 1964      Studies on Chaucer's House of Fame A. C. Garrett, Adams Sherman Hill, Edward Stevens Sheldon, Francis Barton Gummere, Fred Norris Robinson, George Lyman Kittredge, John Albrecht Walz, John Corbin, John Matthews Manly, Kuno Francke, Raymond Weeks, Roscoe Addison Small, William Henry Schofield, William Preston Few, 1896      Studies in Chaucer's House of Fame (Classic Reprint) Wilbur Owen Sypher, 2018-03-06 Excerpt from Studies in Chaucer s House of Fame A confirmation of the previous discussion occurs in Part IV where in keeping with the theory advanced in Part I and with its partial justification in Part III I present an explanation of the inner meaning of the Bous of Fame About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works      Chaucer and Fame Isabel Davis, Catherine Nall, 2015 Fama or fame is a central concern of late medieval literature Where fame came from who deserved it whether it was desirable how it was acquired and kept were significant inquiries for a culture that relied extensively on personal credit and reputation An interest in fame was not new being inherited from the classical world but was renewed and rethought within the vernacular revolutions of the later Middle Ages The work of Geoffrey Chaucer shows a preoccupation with ideas on the subject of fama not only those received from the classical world but also those of his near contemporaries via an engagement with their texts he aimed to negotiate a place for his own work in the literary canon establishing fame as the subject site at which literary theory was contested and writerly reputation won Chaucer s place in these negotiations was readily recognized in his aftermath as later writers adopted and reworked postures which Chaucer had struck in their own bids for literary place This volume considers the debates on fama which were past present and future to Chaucer using his work as a centre point to investigate canon formation in European literature from the late Middle Ages and into the Early Modern period Isabel Davis is Senior Lecturer in Medieval Literature at Birkbeck University of London Catherine Nall is Senior Lecturer in Medieval Literature at Royal Holloway University of London Contributors Joanna Bellis Alcuin Blamires Julia Boffey Isabel Davis Stephanie Downes A S G Edwards Jamie C Fumo Andrew Galloway Nick Havelly Thomas A Prendergast Mike Rodman Jones William T Rossiter Elizaveta Strakhov      The House of Fame Geoffrey Chaucer, 2013 The first version of this edition appeared in 1994 and was described by reviewers as a considerable advance over the work of earlier editors Journal of English and Germanic Philology essential reading for those planning to write about the House of Fame Speculum and an edition which will be useful and informative to both students and Chaucer scholars alike Review of

English Studies Critical interest in The House of Fame has since continued to develop and a re issue of this edition by PIMS has provided an opportunity to acknowledge and support that interest The Introduction and Commentary have thus been thoroughly revised to take account of recent scholarship on the poem glossing in footnotes to the Text and at the end of the volume has been extended and a number of minor errors have been corrected Studies in Chaucer's Hous of Fame ,

Studies in Chaucer's Hous of Fame Wilbur Owen Sypherd,1965 Studies in Chaucer's Hous of Fame Wilbur Owen Sypherd,1907 A Companion to Old and Middle English Literature Laura Lambdin,Robert Thomas

Lambdin,2002-06-30 Old and Middle English literature can be obscure and challenging So too can the vast body of criticism it has elicited Yet the masters of medieval literature often drew on similar texts since imitation was admired For this reason recent scholarship has often focused on the importance of genre The genre in which a work was written can illuminate the author s intentions and the text s meaning Read in light of a genre s parameters a given work can be considered in relation to other works within the same category This reference is a comprehensive overview of Old and Middle English literature Chapters focus on particular genres such as Allegorical Verse Balladry Beast Fable Chronicle Debate Poetry Epic and Heroic Lyric Middle English Parody Burlesque Religious and Allegorical Verse and Romance Expert contributors define the primary characteristics of each genre and discuss relevant literary works Chapters provide extensive reviews of scholarship and close with detailed bibliographies A more thorough bibliography of major scholarly studies closes the book English Medieval Narrative in the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Centuries Piero Boitani,1986-07-31 In this detailed study of English narrative verse the author describes and analyses the undisputed masterpieces of narrative such as the works of the Gawain poet Langland Gower and Chaucer as well as anonymous romances and specimens of religious and comic narrative which form the background to more well known poems The Idea of the Labyrinth from Classical Antiquity through the Middle

Ages Penelope Reed Doob,2019-03-15 Ancient and medieval labyrinths embody paradox according to Penelope Reed Doob Their structure allows a double perspective the baffling fragmented prospect confronting the maze treader within and the comprehensive vision available to those without Mazes simultaneously assert order and chaos artistry and confusion articulated clarity and bewildering complexity perfected pattern and hesitant process In this handsomely illustrated book Doob reconstructs from a variety of literary and visual sources the idea of the labyrinth from the classical period through the Middle Ages Doob first examines several complementary traditions of the maze topos showing how ancient historical and geographical writings generate metaphors in which the labyrinth signifies admirable complexity while poetic texts tend to suggest that the labyrinth is a sign of moral duplicity She then describes two common models of the labyrinth and explores their formal implications the unicursal model with no false turnings found almost universally in the visual arts and the multicursal model with blind alleys and dead ends characteristic of literary texts This paradigmatic clash between the labyrinths of art and of literature becomes a key to the metaphorical potential of the maze as Doob s examination of a vast array of materials from the classical period through the Middle Ages suggests She concludes with linked readings of four labyrinths of words Virgil's Aeneid Boethius Consolation of Philosophy Dante's Divine Comedy and Chaucer's House of Fame each of which plays with and transforms received ideas of the labyrinth as well as reflecting and responding to aspects of the texts that influenced it Doob not only provides fresh theoretical and historical perspectives on the labyrinth tradition but also portrays a complex medieval aesthetic that helps us to approach structurally elaborate early works Readers in such fields as Classical literature Medieval Studies Renaissance Studies comparative literature literary theory art history and intellectual history will welcome this wide ranging and illuminating book

"Truth, Craft, and the Real in Chaucer's House of Fame" Ellen M. Condit, 2010 Contemporary study of Geoffrey Chaucer's House of Fame has made numerous attempts to categorize the poem under the loosely defined modern category of literary nominalism drawing heavily on disputed interpretations of the fourteenth century philosophical debates about the ontological existence of universals The approach takes a largely postmodern view towards language literature and epistemology and assumes that the poem is a precursor to the values and prejudices of the modern world instead of a challenge to them This dissertation studies the House of Fame in light of its intellectual context and its social and literary milieu it is a poem that draws on a rich tradition of Christian and pagan literary authorities densely populated with mythical figures epic heroes biblical prophecies and literary allusions all co-opted into an intricate imaginatively appealing web of figural representation It also imbibes the apocalyptic consciousness and the philosophical flux of the fourteenth century At the foundation of this unwieldy poem lies distinct philosophical assumptions that harken back to orthodox realist sources and positions expressed most relevantly to Chaucer's interests and time period in Boethius's Consolation of Philosophy and Wyclif's defense of realism in On Universals in particular Standing on the firm ground of Augustinian realism Wyclif disputes the modern logicians who refute the existence of universals and thus chip away at the foundations of the Christian faith In Boethius's and Wyclif's defense of universals the themes and concerns of their work align closely with those of Chaucer in particular in his emphasis on the connection that exists between word and deed between language and reality Chaucer is concerned with language and its ability to convey meaning both as a poet and as a thinker grappling with the philosophical and intellectual currents of his day Chaucer Eleanor Prescott Hammond, 1908 Books James Elliot Radford, 1968 The Date of Chaucer's Troilus and Other Chaucer Matters George Lyman Kittredge, 1909 Annual Report of the Dante Society, with Accompanying Papers Dante Society of America, 1908 Annual Report of the Dante Society Dante Society (U.S.), 1906 Chaucer and Dissimilarity John J.
