Studies In Fiction:

Studying Fiction Roy Johnson, 1992 This guide offers an introduction to the basic skills and intellectual tools required for making a study of fiction It presents an explanation of the most common features of prose using practical examples drawn from six short stories which are included as part of the study programme The book is carefully structured in logical steps intended to lead the reader from attentive reading to help produce a description of the piece through analysis inspecting comparing and evaluating writing to interpretation making judgements on pieces of work and adopting different points of view The overlapping of certain points and techniques is also explained and the book offers advice on spotting and analyzing specific writing techniques gives practical advice on how to set about studying keeping notes organizing the page of work drafting answers and so on and offers self assessment exercises and a detailed glossary Under Course Work the book also suggests topics for discussion and essay topics for those using the book in a tutor led setting The Work of Fiction Ellen Spolsky, 2017-03-02 The essays gathered here demonstrate and justify the excitement and promise of cognitive historicism providing a lively introduction to this new and quickly growing area of literary studies Written by eight leading critics whose work has done much to establish the new field they display the significant results of a largely unprecedented combination of cultural and cognitive analysis The authors explore both narrative and dramatic genres uncovering the tensions among presumably universal cognitive processes and the local contexts within which complex literary texts are produced Alan Richardson s opening essay evaluates current approaches to the study of literature and cognition locating them on the map of recent literary studies indicating their most compelling developments to date and suggesting the most promising future directions The seven essays that follow provide innovative readings of topics ranging from Shakespeare Othello Macbeth Cymbeline The Rape of Lucrece through Samuel Richardson s Clarissa to contemporary authors Ian McEwan and Gilbert Sorrentino They underscore some of the limitations of new historicist and post structuralist approaches to literary cultural studies while affirming the value of supplementing rather than supplanting them with insights and methods drawn from cognitive and evolutionary theory Together they demonstrate the analytical power of considering these texts in the context of recent studies of cultural universals theory of mind cognitive categorization and genre and neural materialist theories of language and consciousness This groundbreaking collection holds appeal for a broad audience including students and teachers of literary theory literary history cultural studies and literature and science studies Annual Register University of Chicago, 1925 Catalogue of Books Exclusive of Prose Fiction in the Central Lending Library Leeds (England).
