

In The Land of the Free

I. Intro paragraph: Briefly summarize the plot, what happened and why

The story begins with Lac Choo an obedient and dutiful wife Hing Hom discovers that she is pregnant. Lac Choo then concludes that she will return her native land of China from California so that her children will have the privilege of being born in their homeland.

Unfortunately, the parents of Hong, Lac's husband fall terribly sick forcing Lac to cut her journey short in order to care for the ailing parents. Consequently, Hing's parents succumb to sickness and, therefore, forcing Lac to return to San Francisco with her younger son (Far 1).

However, Lac Choo and her Hing encounter a problem at the immigration desk. The problem emanates from the fact the two filed their immigration papers prior to their son being born, therefore, their son lacks the proper documentation and certification. The first customs officer is adamant about not allowing the boy to go ashore, "There is nothing in the papers that you have shown us—your wife's papers and your own—having any bearing on the child" (Far 2). The immigration officers take hold of the little boy and tell Lac and her husband to come the following day and know about the dispositions of the boy's case.

Five months down the line, the immigration department had not yet returned the little boy to the care of her parents. The boy was under the protective and watchful care of the missionaries that the officers had assigned to take care of the child (Far 1). Out of desperation and destitution, Hom hires a lawyer, James Clancy, to help them out in trying to get their son back. The lawyers attempt to petition the immigration prove futile, and he turn the Hom family for more money to go the capital and petition the government instead. Hom Hing lacks the financial capabilities, but
