Situating Phenomenological Psychopathology: Subjective Experience Within the World Elizabeth Pienkos, Jasper Feyaerts, Rosa Ritunnano, Jérôme Englebert, Louis Sass, 2023-09-28 vThe discipline of phenomenological psychopathology has historically focused on elucidating the ways in which persons with psychiatric illnesses experience themselves and the world Early pioneers in this field were aware of the impact of uncontrollable life events on the onset and course of severe illness such as Jaspers recognition that environmental events may stimulate or enhance certain innate potentialities for the development of a disorder Furthermore the role of environment and life events in the development and onset of psychiatric illness has been well documented For example there is a clear relationship between the development of psychotic symptoms and life stressors including adverse childhood events urban living and migration However relatively little attention with some notable exceptions has been devoted to exploring the features of those experienced worlds and how they may impact the trajectory of severe illnesses such as schizophrenia depression and personality disorders

Weeks, Tanvi Bafna, Mohua Chakraborty Choudhury, 2025-10-09 Healthcare workers burnout is a global issue COVID 19 pandemic had a significantly negative effect on the morale and resilience of healthcare workers High rates of depression anxiety and PTSD have been well documented across the globe for healthcare workers contributing to high turnover and attrition rates Occupational burnout not only affects the healthcare workers but is also detrimental to patient safety and organizational productivity Burnout should be seen as a continuum ranging from job dissatisfaction to psychiatric morbidity It is important to educate health professionals and employ primary and secondary preventative strategies at every stage of burnout for the optimal functioning of healthcare systems Although numerous observational studies highlight high rates of burnout among healthcare workers there has been little research to demonstrate effectiveness of interventions to support mental well being of healthcare workers during stressful times Investigation of potential resilience building interventions is especially important to prepare for the next pandemic or large scale disaster In addition robust evidence based guidelines and best practices are needed to reduce the high rates of burnout and promote wellbeing in healthcare workforce by integrating and addressing the full spectrum of occupational organizational social personal and psychological factors There are significant gaps in the existing literature including lack of prospective longitudinal intervention studies research focusing the needs of minority healthcare workers and identifying barriers to promote institutional wellbeing culture
