Integrative Sport and Exercise Nutrition Ian Craig, Justin Roberts, 2025-09-17 Integrative Sport and Exercise Nutrition A Health Feeds Performance Perspective defines health as an underpinning requirement for active pursuit and sporting performance By focusing on the empowerment of scientists and practitioners who support such individuals this new textbook powerfully disseminates academic and experiential knowledge in a thoroughly applied context The prevailing paradigm that has existed within the academic enquiry of sports nutrition has typically viewed macronutrients as fuel for exercise endeavours While this notion provides a basis of quantitative nutritional support what happens when our active individual lacks adequate digestive health to assimilate these foods and in the process creates an inflammatory tone in their body And what happens when our aspiring athlete is genetically not suited to the diet that is prescribed by the sports nutritionist which is based merely on the energetic needs of their sport The underlying aim of Integrative Sport and Exercise Nutrition is to encourage sport exercise and nutrition professionals academics and students to embrace the physiological complexity and individuality of an exercising person This approach highlights the need to go beyond traditional macronutrient approaches dominant in this field and consider how our food impacts physiological health from an integrative body systems perspective Within the context of heavy training loads often alongside significant life stressors such practitioners can support the robust health and performance requirements of active individuals This cutting edge book thereby brings together the scientific voice of academics with the real world experience of nutrition and exercise practitioners and by doing so the authors wish to stimulate a new paradigm of thought towards integrative and personalised thinking in sport and exercise

Proceedings of the ... International Joint Conference on Artificial Intelligence, 1993. Estuaries of South America Gerardo M.E. Perillo, Maria C. Piccolo, Mario Pino-Quivira, 2012-12-06. The original idea of this book started when we were making a residual fluxes study of the Paranagua Coastal Lagoon, Brazil, near the colonial town of Guaraqueaba. Among the beautiful mangroves of this Brazilian National Park, between profile and profile, we wondered why South American estuaries were little known in the international arena. Besides most of the papers published in the literature are based on biological research. Practically nothing is known about their geomorphology and dynamics. That night while we were walking along the hilly streets of the town, we decided that the only way to have an idea about the degree of advance in the geomorphology and dynamics of our estuaries was to ask the proper South American researchers to write review articles about the estuaries in which they were working or about the general state of the art of the Geomorphology and Physical Oceanography of the estuaries of his/her country. The book grew from then on. Although initially many scientists offer to write a chapter, we ran into the same problem: these researchers have to publish in journals; they felt that their English was not good enough and withdrew. However, we are very satisfied about the number and quality of the contributions, which also passed a very strong review process. Proceedings of an EARSeL/ESA Symposium on Integrative Approaches in Remote Sensing, 8-11 April
