Time's Arrow, Time's Cycle Stephen Gould, 1991 Time's Arrow, Time's Cycle Stephen Jay Gould, 2001

Time's Arrow, Time's Cycle Stephen Jay Gould, 1988-01-01 Stephen Jay Gould's subject is nothing less than geology's signal contribution to human thought the discovery of deep time the vastness of earth's history a history so ancient that we can comprehend it only as metaphor

Above Time James Robert Guthrie, 2001 In Above Time James R Guthrie explores the origins of the two preeminent transcendentalists revolutionary approaches to time as well as to the related concepts of history memory and change Most critical discussions of this period neglect the important truth that the entire American transcendentalist project involved a transcendence of temporality as well as of materiality Correspondingly both writers call in their major works for temporal reform to be achieved primarily by rejecting the past and future in order to live in an amplified present moment Emerson and Thoreau were compelled to see time in a new light by concurrent developments in the sciences and the professions Geologists were just then hotly debating the age of the earth while zoologists were beginning to unravel the mysteries of speciation and archaeologists were deciphering the Egyptian hieroglyphs These discoveries worked collectively to enlarge the scope of time thereby helping pave the way for the appearance of Darwin's Origin of Species in 1859 Well aware of these wider cultural developments Emerson and Thoreau both tried although with varying degrees of success to integrate contemporary scientific thought with their preexisting late romantic idealism As transcendentalists they already believed in the existence of correspondences Affinities between man and nature formalized as symbols These symbols could then be decoded to discover the animating presence in the world of eternal laws as pervasive as the laws of science Yet unlike scientists Emerson and Thoreau hoped to go beyond merely understanding nature to achieving a kind of passionate identity with it and they believed that such a union might be achieved only if time was first recognized as being a purely human construct with little or no validity in the rest of the natural world Consequently both authors employ a series of philosophical rhetorical and psychological strategies designed to jolt their readers out of time often by attacking received cultural notions about temporality Publishers website

Direction of Time Sergio Albeverio, Philippe Blanchard, 2013-12-09 This edited book presents the problems of time and direction from an interdisciplinary point of view concentrating in particular on the following relations Time and physics Time philosophy and psychology Time mathematics and information theory It is a unique contribution by philosophers and scientists who are active in mathematics physics biology engineering information theory and psychology Questions such as the existence of a Big Bang the neurobiological basis regarding the coexistence of free will and determinism intercultural aspects of time mathematical models of time psychopathological features of time and micro reversibility versus macroscopic irreversibility are studied It also provides a truly interdisciplinary study of the problematic arrow of time
