Titanic Destination Disaster:

Titanic, Destination Disaster John P. Eaton, 1992 Titanic: Destination Disaster John P. Eaton, Charles A. Haas, 2011-11-15 No other ship or maritime tragedy holds more fascination than the Titanic and a century after she sank beneath the chill starlit North Atlantic waters on her maiden voyage carrying a wide mix of passengers from the social artistic and financial elite of two continents to the humblest emigrants on their way to America the story continues to enthral people of all ages and cultures Two of the world's foremost authorities present this popular account of the sea's best known disaster expertly summarizing the ship's brief but glamorous life from building and launching in Belfast to the discovery of her remains more than two miles down on the ocean bed and the subsequent artefact recovery dives and courtroom efforts to protect the wreck Their own photographic dives to the wreck site feature in this updated third edition of their best selling paperback together with a wealth of fascinating new information about the ship and her people past and present Titanic

John P. Eaton, 1988 Rhetorics of Display Lawrence J. Prelli, 2021-12-24 Groundbreaking case studies mapping the rhetoric inherent in acts of presentation and concealment Rhetorics of Display is a pathbreaking volume that brings together a distinguished group of scholars to assess an increasingly pervasive form of rhetorical activity Editor Lawrence J Prelli notes in his introduction that twenty first century citizens continually confront displays of information and images from the verbal images of speeches and literature to visual images of film and photography to exhibits in museums to the arrangement of our homes to the merchandising of consumer goods The volume provides an integrated comprehensive study of the processes of selecting what to reveal and what to conceal that together constitute the rhetorics of display Surveying major historical transformations in the relationship between rhetoric and display this book also identifies the leading themes in relevant scholarship of the past three decades Seventeen case studies canvass a representative and diverse range of displays from body piercing to a civil rights memorial to a Titanic exhibition to imagery found in gambling casinos and examine the ways that phenomena persons places events identities communities and cultures are exhibited before audiences Collectively the contributors shed light on rhetorics that are nearly ubiquitous in contemporary communication and culture Titanic
