

ARCHITECTURE

According to Vitruvius, a good architect must have the three characteristics of strength, utility, and beauty, which are commonly translated as stability, service, and delight in modern English, or equivalent words in other languages.

- Durability is a characteristic that an object is attributed for its strength, and remains in good condition.
- Utility is a quality that is useful for the purpose for which it is used.
- Beauty should be pleasing to the senses.

PAINTING

Painting is perhaps the most well known of the seven types of fine arts. People have used flat surfaces of various kinds to represent or capture reality since the beginning of time.

There have been several well-known visual artists, so it is no wonder that this still one of the most popular and widely recognized fine art forms.

SCULPTURE

One of the most arts is sculpture, the ability to form the solid's content of 3D figures. Originally, a sculpture was made by just carving into a material, which was then directly into the stone.

A few contemporary artists or artists that incorporate a wide range of materials and techniques. Sculpting is a wide range of the visual arts that employ three dimensions. It is a type of plastic art.

SEVEN FINE ARTS

MUSIC

Music has a special place among the seven arts because of its capacity to clearly communicate sounds using instruments. For a long time, humans had been accompanied by the music of nature.

It is a communicable art form, an art form connecting all aspects of teaching the subconscious heart and influencing an entire population. There are hundreds of musical instruments, which are engaged by hands.

It is a kind of body expression that can transport the audience into a dream world in music. Some features are defined by the audience, they have felt a sense of trust or emotion when they see a live performance of it.

The term "performing arts" refers to forms of entertainment in which artists use their bodies in a special artistic presentation. It is one of a variety of fields of visual arts. Performing arts include a variety of physical movements that are usually performed in front of a live audience.

PERFORMANCE

FILM

Film, also known as motion picture or movie, is a media that can be used to capture moving images, as well as other things related to audio experiences that include thoughts, ideas, imagination, emotions, splendor or perspective.

The word "cinema," short for "cinematography," is frequently used to refer to filmmaking and the industry or art of the artistic expression that results from it.

Cinema is a form of art that refers to the use of light to capture itself, although we know that literature is not that, some people do not consider the film to be a form of poetry, it also includes video form.

Literature refers to writing that is considered a form of writing, but is also an artistic or intellectual or cultural experience, using the use of language to express ideas.

The Latin word "littera" (literature) comes from "littera," which means letter, or something we used to refer to of written words.
