Transforming Study Abroad Neriko Musha Doerr, 2018-12-17. Written for study abroad practitioners, this book introduces theoretical understandings of key study abroad terms including the global, national, culture, native speaker, immersion, and host society. Building theories on these notions with perspectives from cultural anthropology, political science, educational studies, linguistics, and narrative studies, it suggests ways to incorporate them in study abroad practices. Through attention to daily activities via the concept of immersion, it reframes study abroad not as an encounter with cultural others but as an occasion to analyze constructions of differences in daily life backgrounded by structural arrangements. A Guide

Liberal Arts Curriculum Barbara B. Burn,1991-05-30 This book deals with an issue of increasing concern to college educators the relationship of study abroad to the home campus curriculum All too often American undergraduates find that their study abroad experience has little relation to their home campus studies The eight case studies presented herein provide the insight necessary to help college educators and administrators successfully internationalize their students degree programs The contributors describe activities undertaken at eight colleges and universities as part of the Articulation Project Launched in January 1987 the project was designed first to identify the factors circumstances and attitudes that prevent study abroad from being an important and integral part of the total undergraduate degree program A second goal was to identify and encourage institutional strategies and policies aimed at eliminating or at least reducing these obstacles The underlying aim of the project and the goal of this collective work is to strengthen international studies and encourage the internationalization of undergraduate education in the United States by making study abroad more important to and recognized within it Educators committed to these ideals will find this volume essential reading Assessing Study Abroad
