

The Eucharist

Thomas O'Loughlin

The Eucharist:

The Eucharist Thomas O'Loughlin, 2015-01-29 Theological reflection upon the Eucharist is dominated by two paradigms. One approach interprets the Eucharist almost exclusively in theological terms shaped by Scholasticism and the Reformation. Most discussions about the nature of the Eucharist, Eucharistic presence or the role of the priest follow these categories even if they come in modern disguise. The other reads the Eucharist as an event which can be explored empirically. O'Loughlin develops a new understanding of the Eucharist. This can be done by looking afresh at the historical evidence and bringing it in dialogue with modern theology. In the past decades, historical research and new discoveries have changed our view of the origins and the development of the Eucharist. By bringing history into a fruitful dialogue with sacramental and liturgical theology, he shows not only ways how theology and practice can be brought closer together again but also how current ecumenical divisions can be overcome. His book makes an important contribution to eucharistic theology both for individual church traditions as well as for ecumenical dialogues.

The Eucharist in New Testament Jerome Kodell, 2017-06-15 This examination of the Eucharist is divided into two parts. The first seeks to uncover the origins of the Eucharist and to trace developments in the earliest eucharistic practice and understanding. The second part studies the eucharistic theology of the New Testament writers.

101 Questions and Answers on the Eucharist Giles Dimock, 2006 In this book Giles Dimock answers some of the most commonly asked questions about the Eucharist that have been posed to him in his preaching and teaching. He starts off with questions on the Jewish background of Eucharist and then examines the Last Supper and its theology in the light of the Paschal Mystery. Some of the other questions deal with transubstantiation, sacrifice, Real Presence, communion and intercommunion. Fr Dimock's answers are both practical and ecumenical. The questions range from the straightforward: Why is the Eucharist called Holy Communion? What is Forty Hours? to the more involved: What is said about the Eucharist in the Code of Canon Law? Father Dimock places the teaching of the Church on the Eucharist in conciliar and papal documentation. Here is a book appropriately appearing at the culmination of the Year of the Eucharist that will satisfy the spiritual as well as theological curiosity of college students and seminarians studying the Eucharist as well as probing informed lay people.

The Eucharist, Our Sanctification Raniero Cantalamessa, 1993 The Eucharist should not be limited to the congregation that gathers to hear the word of God and proclaim its faith It is first of all the active presence of the sacrifice of Christ who gathers us together and lets us partake of his divine life through his body and blood in Communion Christians are always hoping to find helpful ways to contemplate the eucharistic mystery in all its fullness and this set of meditations by Father Raniero Cantalamessa presented by him in the presence of Pope John Paul II is written in a simple and warm style and nourished by Scripture and the teachings of the Church Fathers from both the East and the West These meditations answer the needs of all who hope to experience the radiant and radiating Eucharist that shines into their hearts and into the life of the Church

The Eucharist's Biographer Albert J.D. Walsh, 2012-11-06 Christians are not just called to be transformed into something better or even good but to be transfigured into a new creation ceasing to be what they are in order to become what they are not In The Eucharist's Biographer Albert Walsh proposes that the path to this distinctive Christian identity is through the power of the Holy Spirit as revealed in the unity of Word and Sacrament With this premise he unites two powerful traditions the Proclamation of the Word of the Protestant tradition and the Power of God's Grace in the Eucharist of the Roman Catholic and Eastern Orthodox traditions It is in what Walsh calls the eucharistic evangel as a whole that the individual and community are subject to the real presence of the Christ who in the power of the Holy Spirit is the force behind the transformation and maintenance of Christian identity

A History of the Doctrine of the Holy Eucharist Darwell Stone, 1909

The Holy Grail and the Eucharist Sergiï Bulgakov, Sergeï Nikolaevich Bulgakov, 1997 These two moving studies by the eminent Orthodox theologian and sophiologist Father Sergei Bulgakov are remarkable in many ways The first is a unique consideration from the point of view of Eastern Christianity of the Holy Grail the chalice used by Joseph of Arimathea to catch the blood and water as it flowed from Jesus' side when it was pierced on the Cross by the spear of Longinus This moment is described in John 19:34 Bulgakov's essay is a dogmatic exegesis of this passage in which with astounding passion and precision he reveals that the Earth itself and hence the human universe is the Grail wherein Christ lives forever The second essay is also unique the most important contribution to eucharistic theology by an Orthodox theologian In the West the meaning of the Communion bread and wine as the Christ's Body and Blood has been interpreted largely in philosophical terms deriving from Aristotle and Thomas Aquinas Bulgakov insists on a christological and Gospel based interpretation one with tremendous significance for our understanding of the supernatural and sophianic nature of a world interpenetrated by the divine This little book is a priceless gift enriching our understanding of the Christian mystery and two of its deepest aspects the Grail and the Eucharist

The Agapé and the Eucharist in the Early Church John Fitzstephen Keating, 1901

Eucharist Ghislain Lafont, 2008 Our most familiar human activities are transfigured in the eucharist and bring us into life giving contact with God in Jesus Christ This statement lies at heart of this thought provoking work In this essay of meditative theology which incorporates aspects of contemporary philosophy anthropology and linguistics in relation to eucharist the author reflects on the intimate connection between food and language in the eucharist Tracing the progression from the act of eating to the celebration of a festal meal he then moves to language because the festal meal often concludes with a discourse addressed to the heroes of the feast Finally he examines eucharistic discourse in order to relate the eucharist to all other festal meals what it remembers what is given in it to eat what is realized The eucharist is discovered to be the place of communion with God founded on the memory of Jesus Christ hoped for in its perfection in eschatological time already realized in the symbolic celebration And yet it also reveals itself as the symbolic fullness of human existence
