Sacred Passage Margaret Coberly, Ph.D, RN, 2003-02-11 Working as an emergency room nurse Margaret Coberly came in contact with death on a daily basis However it wasn t until her own brother was diagnosed with terminal cancer that she realized she understood very little about the emotional and spiritual aspects of caring for the terminally ill To fill this gap she turned to the unique wisdom on death and dying found in Tibetan Buddhism In this book Coberly offers sound practical advice on meeting the essential needs of the dying integrating stories from her long career in nursing with useful insights from the Tibetan Buddhist teachings In the West death is viewed as a tragic and horrible event Coberly shows us how this view generates fear and denial which harm the dying by adding unnecessary loneliness confusion and mental anguish to the dying process Tibetan Buddhism focuses on the nature of death and how to face it with honesty openness and courage In this view death is not a failure but a natural part of life that if properly understood and appreciated can offer the dying and their loved ones an opportunity to gain valuable insight and wisdom Coberly argues that the Tibetan Buddhist outlook can be a useful antidote to the culture of fear and denial that surrounds death in the West and can help caregivers become more fully present fearless honest and compassionate Sacred Passage highlights two very practical teachings on death and dying from the Tibetan Buddhist tradition and presents them in clear nontechnical language Readers learn about the eight stages of dissolution leading to death a detailed roadmap of the dying process that describes the sequence of physical psychological and spiritual changes that occur as we die Coberly also presents the death meditation a contemplative exercise for developing a new relationship to death and life The book also includes a lengthy annotated list of recommended readings for added guidance and inspiration Topics include How the terminally ill can experience emotional and spiritual healing even when they can t be cured Why Western medicine s relentless focus on curing disease has led to inadequate care for the dying What to expect during the dying process How our fear and denial of death harm the dying Techniques to help caregivers promote a peaceful environment for the dying and their loved ones How to meet the changing physical and emotional needs of the dying Helpful advice on what to say and how to behave around the terminally ill
