The China Factor, 1981

The China Factor in America's Foreign Relations Richard H. Solomon, Rand Corporation, 1981 With the perspective of a decade of efforts to normalize U S PRC relations it seems fair to conclude that the changes in world politics initiated by President Nixon's historic trip to Peking in 1972 were as much in people's minds as they were in actual alterations in global political economic and military forces While normalization removed the burdens for China and the U S of two decades of confrontation it has not produced an intimate new alignment of resources and efforts or a restructuring of American priorities in Asia Yet U S PRC normalization initiated processes of change that if they endure for several decades can contribute significantly to the modernization of China and to the building of a new coalition of powers supportive of the basic goals of American foreign policy In retrospect we can clearly see that the normalization process begun in 1971 eliminated the negative costs to U S defenses and foreign relations of two decades of political and military hostility with China Normalization facilitated our disengagement from Vietnam The positive benefits of normalization will only be realized as the U S PRC relationship develops in the years ahead Yet the China factor for all its promise will be only one element in America's foreign relations

The China Factor in Modern Japanese Thought Lincoln Li, 1996-07-03 When militarism was on the ascendant Tachibana was a vocal critic of military solutions Yet his services were sought for by the radical elements of the Japanese military he criticized Through his writings we gain a clearer view of the continuing processes of policy debate in occupied Manchuria
