The Chora of Croton, 1990 The Chora of Croton, 1983-1989, 1990 The Chora of Croton 1 Jon

Morter, 2012-10-03 From 1974 to the present the Institute of Classical Archaeology ICA at the University of Texas at Austin has carried out archaeological excavations and surveys in ancient territories chorae in southern Italy This wide ranging investigation which covers a large number of sites and a time period ranging from prehistory to the Middle Ages has unearthed a wealth of new information about ancient rural economies and cultures in the region These discoveries will be published in two multivolume series Metaponto and Croton This volume on the Neolithic settlement at Capo Alfiere is the first in the Croton series The Chora of Croton 1 reports the excavation results of a remarkable Neolithic site at Capo Alfiere on the Ionian coast Capo Alfiere is one of a very few early inhabitation sites in this area to have been excavated extensively with a full team of scientific specialists providing interdisciplinary studies on early farming and animal husbandry It provides comprehensive documentation of the economy material culture and way of life in the central Mediterranean in the sixth and fifth millennia BC Most notable are the remains of a wattle and daub hut enclosed within a massive stone wall Unique for this area this well preserved structure may have been used for special purposes such as ritual as well as for habitation The presence of Stentinello wares shows that the range of this pottery type extended further east than previously thought and casts new light on the development of ceramics in the area Constructing Messapian Landscapes Gert-Jan

Burgers, 2023-01-16 Over the last three decades archaeologists have progressively embarked on field walking projects all around the Mediterranean basin The aim of most of these projects is to investigate the ancient settlement and landscape dynamics of specific Mediterranean regions They greatly contribute to the new liveliness which characterizes present day classical archaeology not only by introducing new research methods but also and in particular by widening its subject matter to include the history of societies in the margins of the Graeco Roman urban world It is within this recent tradition that the present book has been written the author aims to examine the ancient settlement and societal dynamics of the Brindisi region in the north east of the Salento peninsula The field surveys indicate that during the pre Roman period the regional society was characterized by processes of centralization and urbanization Subsequently from the 3rd century BC onwards it gradually integrated into the Roman orbit Burgers emphasizes an active indigenous role in the successive colonial situations in southern Italy He focuses on the internal dynamics of the local communities and investigates how social strategies manifested themselves especially in external contacts and in the organization of settlement and landscape The Oxford

Handbook of Neolithic Europe Chris Fowler, Jan Harding, Daniela Hofmann, 2015 The Neolithic a period in which the first sedentary agrarian communities were established across much of Europe has been a key topic of archaeological research for over a century However the variety of evidence across Europe and the way research traditions in different countries and languages have developed makes it very difficult for both students and specialists to gain an overview of continent wide trends The Oxford Handbook of Neolithic Europe provides the first comprehensive geographically extensive thematic overview of the European Neolithic from Iberia to Russia and from Norway to Malta offering both a general introduction and a clear exploration of key issues and current debates surrounding evidence and interpretation Chapters written by leading experts in the field examine topics such as the movement of plants animals ideas and people including recent trends in the application of genetics and isotope analyses cultural change from the first farming to the first metal artefacts domestic architecture subsistence material culture monuments and burial and other treatments of the dead In doing so the volume also considers the history of research and sets out agendas and themes for future work in the field
