The Otherness:

The Otherness of God Orrin F. Summerell, 1998 This volume offers essays on the nature of God and the fundamental tasks of philosophy and theology written by internationally recognized thinkers in the distinct fields of philosophy religious studies and theology The Otherness of God traces the lineage of its theme from Plato and Aristotle through Neoplatonic medieval and Renaissance expression and on through Reformation thought and German idealism to dialectical theology and deconstruction This provocative collection drawn primarily from an interdisciplinary conference at the University of Virginia should attract those interested in the philosophy of religion the history of philosophy and theology and the theological interpretation of secular culture

The Otherness of English Probal Dasgupta, 1993-05-25 This book offers a unique interpretation of the content of the English language in India Presenting an interdisciplinary account based on his critique of earlier research the author explains the reasons for the poverty of modern India s English and the role it plays in the general process of modernization and demonstrates how it occupies a functional slot in India s linguistic space

The Monstrosity of Christ Slavoj Žižek, John Milbank, 2011-02-25 A militant Marxist atheist and a Radical Orthodox Christian theologian square off on everything from the meaning of theology and Christ to the war machine of corporate mafia What matters is not so much that Žižek is endorsing a demythologized disenchanted Christianity without transcendence as that he is offering in the end despite what he sometimes claims a heterodox version of Christian belief John Milbank To put it even more bluntly my claim is that it is Milbank who is effectively guilty of heterodoxy ultimately of a regression to paganism in my atheism I am more Christian than Milbank Slavoj Žižek In this corner philosopher Slavoj Žižek a militant atheist who represents the critical materialist stance against religion s illusions in the other corner Radical Orthodox theologian John Milbank an influential and provocative thinker who argues that theology is the only foundation upon which knowledge politics and ethics can stand In The Monstrosity of Christ Žižek and Milbank go head to head for three rounds employing an impressive arsenal of moves to advance their positions and press their respective advantages By the closing bell they have not only proven themselves worthy adversaries they have shown that faith and reason are not simply and intractably opposed Žižek has long been interested in the emancipatory potential offered by Christian theology And Milbank seeing global capitalism as the new century s greatest ethical challenge has pushed his own ontology in more political and materialist directions Their debate in The Monstrosity of Christ concerns the future of religion secularity and political hope in light of a monsterful event God becoming human For the first time since Žižek s turn toward theology we have a true debate between an atheist and a theologian about the very meaning of theology Christ the Church the Holy Ghost Universality and the foundations of logic The result goes far beyond the popularized atheist theist point counterpoint of recent books by Christopher Hitchens Richard Dawkins and others Žižek begins and Milbank answers countering dialectics with paradox The debate centers on the nature of and relation between paradox and parallax between analogy and dialectics between transcendent glory and liberation Slavoj Žižek
