What Not How The Business Rules Approach To Application Development:

    What Not how C. J. Date,2000 What I think Date has done is nothing less than to lay out the foundational concepts for the next generation of business logic servers based on predicate logic Such a breakthrough should revolutionize application development in our industry and take business rules to their fullest expression Ronald G Ross Principal Business Rule Solutions LLC Executive Editor DataToKnowledge Newsletter The way we build computer applications is about to change dramatically thanks to a new development technology known as business rules The key idea behind the technology is that we can build applications declaratively instead of procedurally that is we can simply state WHAT needs to be done instead of HOW to do what needs to be done The advantages are obvious ease and rapidity of initial development and subsequent maintenance hardware and software platform independence overall productivity business adaptivity and more What Not How The Business Rules Approach to Application Development is a concise and accessible introduction to this new technology It is written for both managers and technical professionals The book consists of two parts Part I presents a broad overview of what business rules are all about Part II then revisits the ideas in Part I and shows how they fit squarely into the solid tradition of relational technology Topics covered include Presentation rules Database and application rules Building on the data model Potential advantages and disadvantages A new look at relational fundamentals Business rules and the relational model Overall the book provides a good grounding in an important new technology one poised to transform the way we do business in the IT world 0201708507B04062001   Agile Business Rule Development Jérôme Boyer,Hafedh Mili,2011-03-23 Business rules are everywhere Every enterprise process task activity or function is governed by rules However some of these rules are implicit and thus poorly enforced others are written but not enforced and still others are perhaps poorly written and obscurely enforced The business rule approach looks for ways to elicit communicate and manage business rules in a way that all stakeholders can understand and to enforce them within the IT infrastructure in a way that supports their traceability and facilitates their maintenance Boyer and Mili will help you to adopt the business rules approach effectively While most business rule development methodologies put a heavy emphasis on up front business modeling and analysis agile business rule development ABRD as introduced in this book is incremental iterative and test driven Rather than spending weeks discovering and analyzing rules for a complete business function ABRD puts the emphasis on producing executable tested rule sets early in the project without jeopardizing the quality longevity and maintainability of the end result The authors presentation covers all four aspects required for a successful application of the business rules approach 1 foundations to understand what business rules are and are not and what they can do for you 2 methodology to understand how to apply the business rules approach 3 architecture to understand how rule automation impacts your application 4 implementation to actually deliver the technical solution within the context of a particular business rule management system BRMS Throughout the book the authors use an insurance case study that deals with claim processing Boyer and Mili cater to different audiences Project managers will find a pragmatic proven methodology for delivering and maintaining business rule applications Business analysts and rule authors will benefit from guidelines and best practices for rule discovery and analysis Application architects and software developers will appreciate an exploration of the design space for business rule applications proven architectural and design patterns and coding guidelines for using JRules   Rule Interchange and Applications Adrian Paschke,Guido Governatori,John Hall,2009-11-04 The 2009 International Symposium on Rule Interchange and Applications RuleML 2009 collocated in Las Vegas Nevada with the 12th International Business Rules Forum was the premier place to meet and to exchange ideas from all elds of rules technologies The aims of RuleML 2009 were both to present new and interesting research results and to show successfully deployed rule basedapplications This annualsymposium is the agshipevent of the Rule Markup and Modeling Initiative RuleML The RuleML Initiative www ruleml org is a non pro t umbrella organi tion of several technical groups organized by representatives from academia industry and public sectors working on rule technologies and applications Its aim is to promote the study research and application of rules in heterogeneous distributed environments such as the Web RuleML maintains e ective links with other major international societies and acts as intermediary between v ious specialized rule vendors applications industrial and academic research groups as well as standardization e orts from for example W3C OMG and OASIS To emphasize the importance of rule standards RuleML 2009 featured besides a number of tutorials on various rule aspects a tutorial and a workshop dedicated to the newly released W3C Rule Interchange Format RIF   Service-Oriented Perspectives in Design Science Research Hemant Jain,Atish P.
