Religion without Belief Jean Ellen Petrolle,2008-06-05 Shows there is a strong religious impulse in postmodern literature and film

Rites of Realism Ivone Margulies,2003-03-27 A collection of essays rethinking and reviving realism as a focus for film theory particularly emphasizing the relation of the genre to issues of the body

Peter Greenaway Paul Melia, Peter Greenaway, Alan Woods, Cornerhouse (Gallery : Manchester, England),1998 Morality plays were the main form of theatre in England between about 1400 and 1600 They usually portrayed a representative Christian figure locked in spiritual conflict They have recently been revived as early examples of living theatre

The Films of Peter Greenaway Amy Lawrence,1997-10-13 An in depth study of Peter Greenaway s films

Spoken Image Clive Scott,1999 The Spoken Image considers the nature of photography examining the language used in titles captions and commentaries particularly as they relate to documentary photography photojournalism and fashion photography

Vermeer's Afterlives Ruth Bernard Yeazell,2026-06-09 How a once forgotten Dutch painter inspired generations of artists writers and filmmakers Johannes Vermeer 1632 1675 is one of the most beloved painters in the world But when an enterprising French journalist and art critic set out to recover his work in the mid nineteenth century both his name and achievement were virtually forgotten Vermeer s Afterlives tells the remarkable story of how one of the great masters of the Dutch Golden Age was lost to obscurity until the rise of art history as a new discipline introduced his work to modern audiences and asks why his art compels so many other artists to respond with works of their own Ruth Bernard Yeazell traces the cultural ascendancy of this extraordinary painter whose enigmatic subjects and quiet introspective interiors transfigured by light and color continue to captivate viewers far removed from his native Delft We meet the critics who first welcomed Vermeer into the canon along with the painters who sought to imitate him the forgers who tried to pass off their work as his own and the contemporary artists who openly repurpose it The enquiry concludes by looking at Vermeer s paintings through the eyes of the poets and novelists who have attempted to translate his silence into words and give voice to the stories he left untold Along the way Yeazell interrogates the changing assumptions that govern art history while demonstrating how paintings live on not only in later paintings but in poetry fiction photography and film Marking the 350th anniversary of Vermeer s death this beautifully illustrated book explores the variety of ways in which Vermeer s art has been interpreted through the centuries and shows how his paintings take on afterlives of their own in the imaginations of those who view them

Being Naked--playing Dead Alan Woods,1996 Peter Greenaway has an international reputation as one of the most innovative stylish and intelligent of contemporary film makers His eight feature films from The Draughtsman s Contract to The Pillow Book have variously and sometimes simultaneously prompted controversy infamy acclaim and delight However Greenaway is an artist whose work also includes painting collage experimental TV the novel opera Rosa and numerous exhibitions installations including The Stairs a continuing series of ten projects in ten cities exploring the basic components of cinema Being Naked Playing Dead explores the complete oeuvre but centres firmly on Greenaway's insistence that his is a cinema of ideas not plots Each film is discussed within a thematic analysis of the full range of Greenaway's output and the wider contexts within which it is conceived In conclusion there are two extended interviews making this book essential reading for all Greenaway enthusiasts

Art & Film Nicola Kearton,1996 Since its inception in 1896 film has interacted continually with movements in art and criticism Artists have been inspired by the fascination of the moving image and film makers have found their vision through the medium of painting In today's multimedia age film is seen as the ultimate visual art This special issue published to tie in with the centenary of the invention of film presents an analysis of the subtle links between art and film artist and filmmaker It considers film as an inseparable element of contemporary art practice in the 1990s and includes essays on the work of Peter Greenaway performance artist Annie Griffin Alain Fleischer Beth B and extracts from an interview with the late Derek Jarman

Video Movie Guide 1995 Mick Martin,Marsha Porter,1994

The Material Image Brigitte Peucker,2007 Focusing on intermediality The Material Image situates film within questions of representation familiar from the other arts What is meant by figuring the real How is the real suggested by visual metaphors and what is its relation to illusion How is the spectator figured as entering the text and how does the image enter our world The film's spectator is integral to these concerns Cognitive and phenomenological approaches to perception alike claim that spectatorial affect is real even when it is film that produces it Central to the staging of intermediality in film tableaux moments in film also figure prominently in the book Films by Scorsese Greenaway Wenders and Kubrick are seen to address painterly photographic and digital images in relation to effects of the real Hitchcock's films are examined with regard to modernist and realist effects in painting Chapters on Fassbinder and Haneke analyze the significance of tableau for the body in pain while a final chapter on horror film explores the literalism of psychopathic tableau Here too art and the body images and the real are juxtaposed and entwined in a set of relations
