Richard Wright's Travel Writings Virginia Whatley Smith,2012-01-31 Attracted to remote lands by his interest in the postcolonial struggle Richard Wright 1908 1960 became one of the few African Americans of his time to engage in travel writing He went to emerging nations not as a sightseer but as a student of their cultures learning the politics and the processes of social transformation When Wright fled from the United States in 1946 to live as an expatriate in Paris he was exposed to intellectual thoughts and challenges that transcended his social and political education in America Three events broadened his world view his introduction to French existentialism the rise of the Pan Africanist movement to decolonize Africa and Indonesia s declaration of independence from colonial rule in 1945 During the 1950s as he traveled to emerging nations his encounters produced four travel narratives Black Power 1953 The Color Curtain 1956 Pagan Spain 1956 and White Man Listen 1957 Upon his death in 1960 he left behind an unfinished book on French West Africa which exists only in notes outlines and a draft Written by multinational scholars this collection of essays exploring Wright s travel writings shows how in his hands the genre of travel writing resisted adapted or modified the forms and formats practiced by white authors Enhanced by nine photographs taken by Wright during his travels the essays focus on each of Wright s four separate narratives as well as upon his unfinished book and reveal how Wright drew on such non Western influences as the African American slave narrative and Asian literature of protest and resistance The essays critique Wright s representation of customs and people and employ a broad range of interpretive modes including the theories of formalism feminism and postmodernism among others Wright s travel books are proved here to be innovative narratives that laid down the roots of such later genres as postcolonial literature contemporary travel writing and resistance literature Virginia Whatley Smith is an associate professor of English at the University of Alabama Birmingham Her work has appeared in African American Review Mississippi Quarterly and MLA Approaches to Teaching Wright s Native Son Journeys into Darkness James Goho,2014-03-06 The tradition of supernatural horror fiction runs deep in Anglo American literature From the Gothic novels of the eighteenth century to such contemporary authors as Stephen King and Anne Rice writers have employed horror fiction to unearth many disquieting truths about the human condition ranging from mistreatment of women and minorities to the ever present dangers of modern city life In Journeys into Darkness Critical Essays on Gothic Horror James Goho analyzes many significant writers and trends in American and British horror fiction Beginning with Charles Brockden Brown s disturbing novels of terror and madness Goho proceeds to discuss the influence of Edgar Allan Poe s The Fall of the House of Usher on H P Lovecraft who is treated in several penetrating essays Lovecraft was a uniquely philosophical writer and Goho approaches his work through the lens of existentialist philosopher S ren Kierkegaard while also probing Lovecraft s racism as exhibited in several tales about Native Americans Goho also discusses the Welsh writer Arthur Machen s tortured tales of suffering and evil and Algernon Blackwood s numerous stories set in the wilds of the Canadian backwoods The book concludes with a centuries spanning essay on the witchcraft theme in the American Gothic tradition and a comprehensive essay on Fritz Leiber s invention of the urban Gothic In this wide ranging study James Goho examines the varied ways in which supernatural fiction can address the deepest moral social and political concerns of the human experience Journeys into Darkness will be of interest to readers and scholars of horror fiction and to students of literary history and culture in general

Gunnarsson,2000-09-18 Is it rational to be moral Can moral disputes be settled rationally Which criteria determine what we have a good reason to do In this innovative book Logi Gunnarsson takes issue with the assumption made by many philosophers faced with the problem of reconciling moral norms with a scientific world view namely that morality must be offered a non moral justification based on a formal concept of rationality He argues that the criteria for the rationality of an action are irreducibly substantive rather than purely formal and that assuming that morality must be given a non moral justification amounts to a distortion of both rationality and morality His discussion includes substantial critical engagement with major thinkers from two very different philosophical traditions and is notable for its clear and succinct account of Habermas discourse ethics It will appeal to anyone interested in practical reason and the rational credentials of morality
