The Genocide in Rwanda in Comparative Perspective Klaus Bachmann, 2025-03-31 This book combines social science concepts history and transitional justice studies to examine the social dynamics specific actors and ideologies involved in the genocide in Rwanda and examines what makes this genocide a unique case of mass violence and political transition compared with other cases of mass violence It analyzes the conditions necessary for people to engage in intimate violence against their neighbors and family members asking what inclines ordinary men and women to join gangs of killers and what role policies authorities ideologies emotions negotiations and material incentives play in the mobilization for mass atrocities Comparing genocidal events elsewhere in time and location the book provides an up to date overview of the 1994 events in Rwanda and offers new and surprising insights from previously inaccessible archival records explaining how to facilitate foreign intervention in the future This book is of key interest to scholars and students of African politics genocide studies and more broadly to security studies conflicts and conflict resolution studies decolonization studies and contemporary and comparative history

A Cultural Interpretation of the Genocide Convention Kurt Mundorff, 2020-08-25 This book critiques the dominant physical and biological interpretation of the Genocide Convention and argues that the idea of culture is central to properly understanding the crime of genocide Using Raphael Lemkin's personal papers archival materials from the State Department and the UN as well as the mid century secondary literature it situates the convention in the longstanding debate between Enlightenment notions of universality and individualism and Romantic notions of particularism and holism The author conducts a thorough review of the treaty and its preparatory work to show that the drafters brought strong culturalist ideas to the debate and that Lemkin's ideas were held widely in the immediate postwar period Reconstructing the mid century conversation on genocide and situating it in the much broader mid century discourse on justice and society he demonstrates that culture is not a distraction to be read out of the Genocide Convention it is the very reason it exists This volume poses a forceful challenge to the materialist interpretation and calls into question decades of international case law It will be of interest to scholars of genocide human rights international law the history of international law and human rights and treaty interpretation

The Strategy to End the Genocide against the Tutsi in Rwanda Jonathan R. Beloff, 2024-11-25 Utilizing Strategic Theory as a framework for warfare and incorporating the testimonies and experiences of eight genocide survivors as well as military personnel this book examines the various tactics and operations used by the Rwandan Patriotic Army to provide critical insights into decision making during the Rwandan Civil War and genocide

The Genocidal Temptation Robert Seitz Frey, 2004 The fact that Auschwitz Hiroshima and Rwanda cast ominous shadows forward into the future compels us to confront these horrific results of the human head heart and hand In Genocidal Temptation Robert Frey presents a compelling integrated focus directed toward the Nazi killing programs American atomic bombings in Japan Tutsi massacres in Rwanda Soviet genocide in Lithuania and other mass killing and repression programs

Convention John B. Quigley, 2006 The Genocide Convention explores the question of whether the law and genocide law in particular can prevent mass atrocities The volume explains how genocide came to be accepted as a legal norm and analyzes the intent required for this categorization The work also discusses individual suits against states for genocide and finally explores the utility of genocide as a legal concept

The Genocide Convention H. G. Van Der Wilt, Harmen van der Wilt, Jeroen Vervliet, 2012-05-16 Genocide is acknowledged as the crime of crimes This book is the product of an encounter between scholars of historical and legal disciplines which have joined forces to address the question of whether the legal concept of genocide still corresponds with the historical and social perception of the phenomenon

The Genocide Convention John Quigley, 2016-03-09 The Genocide Convention explores the question of whether the law and genocide law in particular can prevent mass atrocities The volume explains how genocide came to be accepted as a legal norm and analyzes the intent required for this categorization The work also discusses individual suits against states for genocide and finally explores the utility of genocide as a legal concept

The EU Accession of Turkey as a Chance for Human Rights and Minorities? B. A. Gabriel, 2011-08 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2011 in the subject Politics Topic European Union grade Sehr gut University of Vienna Institut f r Politikwissenschaft language English abstract The question of whether Turkey is ready to join the European Union has been discussed a lot in recent years and many arguments in favor and against an accession have been put forward This thesis deals especially with those aspects of the debate concerning human and minority rights Though Turkey has made some progress in that field too a lot of issues are yet unresolved most importantly the denial of the genocide against Christians at the beginning of the last century and the associated discrimination of non Moslems that still exists today Unfortunately these points are rarely acknowledged and economic issues seem to be of higher importance Only few people even know about the atrocities that took place a century ago and those who do mostly connect it with the Armenians and possibly the Pontiac Greeks one group of victims seems to be utterly forgotten the Syriacs This is of course not to say that the other minorities persecution is of lesser significance but this thesis will focus on the Syriacs in order to give those a voice who were almost completely unheard up to now In the course of the following chapters it will be argued that Turkey has to come to terms with its past which necessarily has to include recognizing the genocide if it wants to become a member of the European Union and that it is up to the EU to make that topic a priority The accession talks if conducted in the right way could offer a unique possibility to bring along a long overdue change in Turkey s human rights policy Past events have shown that there is potential for improvement However to achieve this certain facts have to be addressed ignoring them would be to the detriment of all To show this the first chapters will provide the historical background focusing on the genocid War Crimes and Genocide Brijesh Narain Mehrish,1972 Law and Contemporary Problems ,1949 People of the State of Illinois V. speech directed at lesbians Virginia Held proposes carrying care into marketplaces and governments and in her introduction Claudia Card draws on Primo Levi's conception of gray zones in exploring dangers of character damage to victims of misogyny A fitting companion to Card's highly regarded Feminist Ethics this volume interweaves observations on character political ethics violence and love into an accessible sourcebook for students It tackles some of feminism's most pressing issues and helps readers to identify and then overcome the real damage caused by oppression Prevent World War III.
