Hugh Chisholm, James Louis Garvin

The Pale Fox:

The Pale Fox Marcel Griaule, Germaine Dieterlen, 1986 The Pale Fox Marcel Griaule, 2016 African Divination Systems Philip M. Peek, 1991 This volume of finely crafted case studies is also the vehicle for an important general theory of divination this is a book overflowing with ideas that will powerfully stimulate further research Journal of Ritual Studies The essays in this collection provide a very useful overview of both the diversity of African divination systems and of recent approaches to their study Choice This unique collection of essays by an exceptional international group of Africanists demonstrates the central role that divination continues to play throughout Africa in maintaining cultural systems and in guiding human action African Divination Systems offers insights for current discussions in comparative epistemology cross cultural psychology cognition studies semiotics ethno-science religious studies and anthropology THE PALE FOX David Leonard, 2020-12-29 First and foremost I must pay homage to Marimba Ani who I gained insight from concerning the title of her book titled Yorugu which means Pale Fox One must do their own investigation into the Dogon African religion to understand The Pale Fox Many Black men are going to see themselves in many chapters within this novel and some will be in denial and this is the same for Whites The two main characters are 100% fictional however all mind states that the main character Dru transforms into are all 100% non fiction The mind states are my own life experiences and testimonies and observations that I received from other Black men There are many Blacks that will probably be enraged that I took such serious matters that happen daily within the African American population and turned these matters into a mythological story urban and I am not surprised nor am I concerned No one is ever challenging urban novelists that write deadly literature that does nothing but keep Black men into a circular dimension This novel is geared to cause a thought disturbance in certain Black males particularly Black young men born in 2000 or later to take a clear look at themselves and the world around them

Harmsworth Natural History, 1910 Worlds of Fiction Roberta Rubenstein, Charles R. Larson, 2002 For introductory literature courses introductory writing courses introductory and advanced courses in short fiction courses in literature with an emphasis on non western writers Unique in content this anthology of 113 short stories encompasses a larger geographical range both Western and non western and greater gender balance than is typical of most short story anthologies and includes a diverse representation of ethnic voices from within the United States as well as less frequently anthologized stories by well known writers It includes both classic and contemporary stories that reflect thematic aesthetic and cultural variety diversity of styles subjects and points of view as well as diversity of cultural historical and gender perspectives Headnotes and questions for each story provide contextual enhancement and guidelines for critical thinking and reflection Being and Motion Thomas Nail, 2019 More than at any other time in human history we live in an age defined by movement and mobility and yet we lack a unifying theory which takes this seriously as a starting point for philosophy The history of philosophy has systematically explained movement as derived from something else that does not move space eternity force and time Why when movement has always been central to human societies did a philosophy based on movement never take hold This book finally overturns this long standing metaphysical tradition by placing movement at the heart of philosophy In doing so Being and Motion provides a completely new understanding of the most fundamental categories of ontology from a movement oriented perspective quality quantity relation modality and others It also provides the first history of the philosophy of motion from early prehistoric mythologies up to contemporary ontologies Through its systematic ontology of movement Being and Motion provides a path breaking historical ontology of our present

Interspecies Communication Gavin Steingo,2024-04-09 A surprising study reveals a plethora of attempts to communicate with non humans in the modern era In Interspecies Communication music scholar Gavin Steingo examines significant cases of attempted communication beyond the human cases in which the dualistic relationship of human to non human is dramatically challenged From singing whales to Sun Ra to searching for alien life Steingo charts the many ways we have attempted to think about and indeed to reach beings that are very unlike ourselves Steingo focuses on the second half of the twentieth century when scientists developed new ways of listening to oceans and cosmic space two realms previously inaccessible to the senses and to empirical investigation As quintessential frontiers of the postwar period the outer space of the cosmos and the inner space of oceans were conceptualized as parallel realities laid bare by newly technologized ears Deeply engaging Interspecies Communication explores our attempts to cross the border between the human and non human to connect with non humans in the depths of the oceans the far reaches of the universe or right under our own noses
