What Is Classicism:

What is Classicism? Michael Greenhalgh, 1990

The Oxford Handbook of European Romanticism Paul

Hamilton, 2016 The Oxford Handbook of European Romanticism focuses on the period beginning with the French Revolution and extending to the uprisings of 1848 across Europe It brings together leading scholars in the field to examine the intellectual literary philosophical and political elements of European Romanticism The volume begins with a series of chapters examining key texts written by major writers in languages including French German Italian Spanish Russian Hungarian Greek and Polish amongst others Then follows a second section based on the naturally inter disciplinary quality of Romanticism encapsulated by the different discourses with which writers of the time set up an internal comparative dynamic These chapters highlight the sense a discourse gives of being written knowledgeably against other pretenders to completeness or comprehensiveness of understanding and the Enlightenment encyclopaedic project Discourses typically push their individual claims to resume European culture collaborating and trying to assimilate each other in the process The main examples featuring here are history geography drama theology language geography philosophy political theory the sciences and the media Each chapter offers original and individual interpretation of individual aspects of an inherently comparative world of individual writers and the discursive idioms to which they are historically subject Together the forty one chapters provide a comprehensive and unique overview of European Romanticism

Modernism Astradur

Eysteinnsson, Vivian Liska, 2007-10-04 The two volume work Modernism has been awarded the prestigious 2008 MSA Book Prize Modernism has constituted one of the most prominent fields of literary studies for decades While it was perhaps temporarily overshadowed by postmodernism recent years have seen a resurgence of interest in modernism on both sides of the Atlantic These volumes respond to a need for a collective and multifarious view of literary modernism in various genres locations and languages Asking and responding to a wealth of theoretical aesthetic and historical questions 65 scholars from several countries test the usefulness of the concept of modernism as they probe a variety of contexts from individual texts to national literatures from specific critical issues to broad cross cultural concerns While the chief emphasis of these volumes is on literary modernism literature is seen as entering into diverse cultural and social contexts These range from inter art conjunctions to philosophical environmental urban and political domains including issues of race and space gender and fashion popular culture and trauma science and exile all of which have an urgent bearing on the poetics of modernity
