Wild About Salads:

Wild about Salads Marie Bianco,1989 In the past few years no other menu category has had so many new and innovative changes as the salad course People are eating lighter and more wisely and a salad combining large amounts of vegetables with small amounts of protein presents a healthier meal than a hamburger and French fries Today s leafy salads are a collection of greens tart arugula bitter raddichio satiny endive assertive spinach peppery watercress baby lettuces nutty miche Truly inventive salad makers add a splash of vibrant color with an edible flower garnish of nasturtium or pansies Perhaps the biggest innovations are the warm cold salads combinations of warm seafood poultry or meat atop dressed chilled greens or pasta a contrast of temperature texture and tastes Cold pasta is no longer limited to macaroni salad mayonnaise and showy fruit salads are bright and cheerful The art of salad making should spark the imagination The salad should be as pleasing to the eye as it is to the palate A humdrum salad like a wedge of iceberg lettuce covered with bottled orange dressing does nothing for the appetite but the same iceberg lettuce anointed with fruity olive oil and a dash of balsamic vinegar and decorated with an array of fresh vegetables can be a collage of colors and taste Presentation is important The classic salad bowl is wood but a glass dish allows more visibility especially for tossed salads An alternative is the composed salad what the French call salad compose e attractive ingredients formally arranged on a platter or on individual dishes When I think of making a salad I like to have a surprise in every bite so don t be afraid to experiment with ingredients Wild
