the curve and she's wrapped them up into four easy steps that can be applied to any organizing project. The keys to Barbara's success are simplicity and consistency. Room by room she takes readers through the most problematic areas in the home from the tornado struck play area to the over-stuffed basement or storage unit. Barbara shows readers how to approach organizing in manageable bites, many of which can be dealt with in two hours or less. With each organizing project she teaches readers how to apply the four steps: 1. purge, 2. design, 3. organize, and 4. maintain. And she also reveals how to solve organizing problems that may pop up in the future from knowing when and how to keep financial papers to how to digitally organize the family's photographs. As the mother of twelve-year-old twins, Barbara offers tips for crazed moms as only a mother could. Combining the humor of a sympathetic friend and the no-nonsense advice of a true type-A personality, Reich offers clever, appealing solutions that are genuinely achievable for everyone. Growing a Family Where People Really Like Each Other Karen Dockrey, 1996. Imagine what the world would be like if every child felt cherished by his or her parents. And what if as an outgrowth of that love each child treated others with kindness. Now Karen Dockrey shows families how to achieve these goals by approaching life as a team, teaching kids strategies for handling the good and bad of life, attacking problems with positiveness and disciplining with consistency. Normal Instructor and Teachers World, 1902. New York State Education, 1928.
