Zhong Guo:

Chinese History Endymion Porter Wilkinson, 2000 Endymion Wilkinson's bestselling manual of Chinese history has long been an indispensable guide to all those interested in the civilization and history of China. In this latest edition now in a bigger format its scope has been dramatically enlarged by the addition of one million words of new text. Twelve years in the making the new manual introduces students to different types of transmitted, excavated and artifactual sources from prehistory to the twentieth century. It also examines the context in which the sources were produced, preserved and received, the problems of research and interpretation associated with them and the best most up to date secondary works. Because the writing of history has always played a central role in Chinese politics and culture special attention is devoted to the strengths and weaknesses of Chinese historiography. National Union Catalog, 1981. Includes entries for maps and atlases.

Directory of Selected Scientific Institutions in Mainland China Surveys & Research Corporation, 1970. Twentieth Century China James H. Cole, 2004. Emphasizing reference works published since 1964 these volumes cover books, periodicals and inclusions i.e. chapters in edited volumes on the 1911 Revolution, the Republic of China, 1949 post 1911 Taiwan, post 1911 Hong Kong and Macao and post 1911 overseas Chinese. Zhang argues that war in Korea offered Mao yet another opportunity to expand and consolidate his political power at home while at the same time uniting the Chinese proletariat against Yankee imperialism and proving to the international community that China had arrived as a major world power. □□□□□□□□, 2006. 2000. Mao's Generals Remember Korea Xiaobing Li, Allan Reed Millett, Bin Yu, 2001. Fifty years after the Korean conflict what is a forgotten war for some Americans is an aching memory for China. With over a million casualties out of the three million soldiers sent into battle that war looms as large for the People's Republic of China. PRC barely a year old when North Korea invaded the South as World War II does for most other countries. It was the first international war fought by the Chinese Communist regime to halt counterrevolution. It was also a war that the Chinese fully expected to win by virtue of not only superiority of numbers but also their soldiers superior political quality. This book presents a mosaic of memoirs by key Chinese military commanders from that war drawing not only on their personal papers but also on still classified archives and on Chinese language sources unavailable in English. It offers an uncensored behind the scenes story of the Communist campaign from the decision to intervene through the truce negotiations that discloses new information on such facets of the war as strategy and tactics, use of propaganda and mobilization of the Chinese population. It also reveals the generals' concerns about the possible use of nuclear force and the alleged use of biological and chemical weapons by the United States. The book contains a wealth of new materials on the Chinese intervention including combat operations logistics political control field command and communications Among those whose recollections are recorded then acting Chief of Staff Nie Rongzhen reveals how party leadership decided on intervention Commander in Chief Peng Dehuai provides personal accounts of major battles and communications with Mao and General Yang Dezhi shares secrets of Chinese military strategy and tactics discussing how the army orchestrated each battle to contend with the better equipped UN forces The volume also features an updated short history of the PRC s conduct of the war based on Chinese sources plus rare photos from Chinese archives that put readers behind the lines from the Chinese side Mao s Generals Remember Korea demonstrates that the PRC continues to draw military diplomatic and strategic lessons from the war it fought fifty years ago with the world s most powerful military force It offers valuable insight into the Chinese way of war and the military mind of Mao that will be a rich resource for Asian and military scholars Macalester International ,2007 The Chinese Have a Word for It Boye De Mente,2000-09-22 The complete guide to Chinese thought and culture List of Shipowners, Managers & Managing Agents ,2002 Transformation and Dissemination of Western Knowledge and Values Kuang-Pei Tu,1996 List of Serials Indexed for Online Users ,2003 Each entry gives abbreviated title full title publication city NLM call number NLM title control number ISSN number special list indicator journal title code and sometimes a brief note 1983 ed 6037 titles Current Serials Received British Library. Document Supply Centre,2006 The Origins of Chinese Bolshevism Michael Y. L. Luk,1990 This book is the most thorough study to date of the founding period of Chinese communism and of the aspects of its ideology that had the greatest formative impact on the subsequent development of the Chinese Communist Party The study of the ideological aspects of the Chinese communist movement must address two questions how communist is it and how Chinese is it Dr Luk makes a major contribution to answering these questions through his fully comprehensive analysis of original CCP materials which enables him to reinterpret some previously held views on the subject
