(Classic Reprint) Louis Joseph Vance,2018-01-18 Excerpt from The Bronze Bell Breaking suddenly upon the steady drumming of the trucks the prolonged and husky roar Of a locomotive whistle saluted an immediate grade crossing Roused by this sound from his solitary musings in the parlour car Of which he happened temporarily to be the sole occupant Mr David Amber put aside the magazine over which he had been dreaming and looked out of the window catching a glimpse Of woodland road shining white between sombre walls Of stunted pine Lazily he consulted his watch It s not for nothing he Observed pensively that this railroad wears its reputation we are consistently late His gaze again diverted to the ying countryside noted that it had changed character pine yielding to scrub oak and second growth the ragged vestments Of an area some years since denuded by fire This too presently swung away giving place to cleared land arable acres golden with the stubble Of garnered har vests or sentinelled with unkempt shocks of corn In the south a shimmer of laughing gold and blue edged the faded horizon About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Bronze Bell Stirling Silliphant,1987-01-01 Marlik 'Izzat Allāh Nigāhbān,1996 The Royal Cemetery at Tepe Marlik was excavated in one incredible 14 month season The 53 intact tombs contained a fabulous array of precious metal vessels jewelry sculpture weapons and other artifacts The gripping tale of these excavations and a detailed report of the excavation and the artifacts from the burials is presented in these two lavishly illustrated volumes

The Sanxingdui Site 三星堆遗址,2006 Dao Companion to the Excavated Guodian Bamboo Manuscripts Shirley Chan,2019-05-03 This volume covers the philosophical historical religious and interpretative aspects of the ancient Guodian bamboo manuscripts which were disinterred in the Guodian Village in Hubei Province China in 1993 Considered to be the Chinese equivalent of the Dead Sea Scrolls these manuscripts are archaeological finds whose importance cannot be underestimated Many of the texts are without counterparts in the transmitted tradition and they provide unique insights into the developments of Chinese philosophy in the period between the death of Confucius 551 479 BCE and the writings of Mencius c 372 289 BCE and beyond Divided into two parts the book first provides inter textual contexts and backgrounds of the Guodian manuscripts The second part covers the main concepts and arguments in the Guodian texts including cosmology and metaphysics political philosophy moral psychology and theory of human nature The thematic essays serve as an introduction to the philosophical significance and the key philosophical concepts thought of each text contained in the Guodian corpus Each chapter has a section on the implications of the texts for the received tradition or for the purpose of comparing some of the text s with the received tradition in terms of the key philosophical concepts as well as the reading and interpretation of the texts The volume covers most of the texts inscribed on the 800 odd slips of the Guodian corpus dated to the fourth century BCE

Rodanum Guus Besuijen,2008 Beneath the surface of Aardenburg a small town in the south western part of the Netherlands lie the remains of a Roman settlement that is presumed to have been named Rodanum Extensive archaeological excavations from the late 1950s to the late 1980s revealed that the settlement was similar in size or even larger than the modern town Its centre was formed by a large castellum type fortification wall that enclosed several large stone buildings The settlement was connected to the sea by a natural watercourse that defined its economic and logistical importance in the region Rodanum s military function was to secure the regional coast against attacks by Germanic tribes via the North Sea which occurred around AD 175 It continued to be inhabited until the late third century or the beginning of the fourth century after which the settlement was deserted until the early Middle Ages The first part of this study provides an overview of Aardenburg during the Roman period in which its economic and military functions within the region are explored In particular the military and civilian character of the town is discussed The second part contains a study of the metal objects and aims to present significant additional information This part concludes with a critical review of the current state of research at this site

The Nanjing Massacre and the Making of Mediated Trauma Hongtao Li,Shunming Huang,2021-08-30 Drawing on cultural trauma theory this book investigates how collective memory of the Nanjing Massacre is fashioned in China and how the mass media political power and public praxis jointly shape the politics and culture of memory in contemporary China Allowing for the dimensions of history and different mediating spaces the authors first conduct textual analysis of news reports from traditional media since the event took place revealing that the significance of the Massacre was initially portrayed as a local incident before its construction as a national trauma and finally a collective memory In a study of physical and online memorial spaces including the Memorial Hall commemorative activities on the Internet and new media platforms the book unveils the production and reproduction of trauma narratives as well as how these narratives have been challenged The final part further studies the interactions between media and other institutional settings while exploring issues of global memory and reconciliation in East Asia The title will be an essential read for anyone interested in memory studies media and communication and particularly the collective memory of the Nanjing Massacre
