Taddeo Zuccaro:

Taddeo and Federico Zuccaro Julian Brooks, Peter M. Lukehart, Christina Strunck, Robert Williams, 2007 One of the most important series of drawings in late sixteenth century Italian art the twenty large sheets by Federico Zuccaro ca 1541-1609 showing the early life of his older brother Taddeo 1529-1566 was acquired by the J Paul Getty Museum in 1999 Never fully published the series shows Taddeo's trials and tribulations as a young artist trying to achieve success in Renaissance Rome and his eventual triumph The drawings contain charming details of the life of a struggling artist and reveal much about the younger brother Federico a successful artist in his own right This volume published to coincide with an exhibition at the J Paul Getty Museum to be held from October 2, 2007 to January 6, 2008 presents Federico Zuccaro's twenty drawings and accompanying poems in their historical and artistic context and will be of interest to art historians and general readers alike Of particular importance is its examination of the role of the copying of masterworks in the training of young Renaissance artists

Taddeo Zuccaro J. A. Gere, 1969

Canonizing Zuccaro Claire I. Sumner, 2020 The Early Life of Taddeo Zuccaro is a series of twenty-four highly finished drawings in pencil ink and wash executed by Federico Zuccaro 1541c-1609 in the mid-1590s depicting scenes from the life of Taddeo Zuccaro 1529-66 during his apprenticeship and early career Each drawing is paired with a tercet of poetry also by Federico meant to complement the scene being depicted The drawings and accompanying verse are a tribute to Taddeo whose career was cut short by his death in 1566 from his younger brother and apprentice The choice of Taddeo's early life as the subject almost thirty years after his death was part of Federico's attempt to depict a family legacy in his Palazzo in Rome that highlighted his artistic pedigree and innovative compositions While the lives of artists is now a common subject of both visual and literary depictions the subject was almost unique in the sixteenth century only the funerary banners painted by the members of the Accademia del Disegno for Michelangelo's funeral in 1564 precede The Early Life of Taddeo series This paper investigates how Federico Zuccaro through The Early Life of Taddeo Zuccaro series turns his brother into an exemplum for the students of the newly founded Accademia di San Luca of which Federico was the first prince principal Federico uses hagiographic imagery which had previously only been used in relation to Michelangelo to place his brother among the canon of great artist and by doing so elevated his brother himself and his newly founded academy The Early Life of Taddeo Zuccaro is an ambitious attempt to control Taddeo's narrative and establish a familial legacy that highlights many of the changing elements both positive and negative that will have long-lasting effect on how artists are viewed and operate The drawings demonstrate just how aware the savvy artist was of their changing circumstances and the active role that artists could play in manipulating and responding to their evolving role in the social fabric of Italian cities at the end of the sixteenth century

The Power and the Glorification Jan L. de Jong, 2013-04-05 Focusing on a turbulent time in the history of the Roman Catholic Church The Power and the Glorification considers how in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries the papacy employed the visual arts to help reinforce Catholic power structures All means of propaganda were deployed to counter the papacy's eroding authority in the wake of the Great Schism of 1378 and in response to the upheaval surrounding the Protestant Reformation a century later. In the Vatican and elsewhere in Rome extensive decorative cycles were commissioned to represent the strength of the church and historical justifications for its supreme authority. Replicating the contemporary viewer's experience is central to De Jong's approach and he encourages readers to consider the works through fifteenth and sixteenth century eyes. De Jong argues that most visitors would only have had a limited knowledge of the historical events represented in these works and they would likely have accepted or been intended to accept what they saw at face value. With that end in mind the painters' advisors did their best to manipulate the viewer accordingly and De Jong discusses their strategies and methods.

The Life of Taddeo Zuccaro by Federico Zuccaro, 1990 Dictionary of Painters and Engravers Michael Bryan, 1889 Taddeo Zuccaro John A. Gere, Taddeo Zuccaro, 1995 Italian Fifteenth- to Seventeenth-century Drawings Anna Forlani Tempesti, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 1991 Perhaps more than any other collector of his generation in the United States Robert Lehman was interested in acquiring early drawings. He made a great effort to add drawings to the collection of paintings, sculpture, ceramics, glass, and other objects that his father Philip Lehman had begun assembling. The 116 Italian drawings analyzed and discussed in this volume are among the more than 2,000 works of art from the collection now housed in the Robert Lehman Wing of The Metropolitan Museum of Art. Robert Lehman's collection demonstrates the variety of drawings produced in Italy from the fifteenth to the seventeenth century, a period when the purposes and techniques of drawings, as well as the aims and abilities of the artist who made them, became increasingly sophisticated. The volume includes an elaborate design for an equestrian monument by Antonio Pollaiuolo, a magnificent study of a bear by Leonardo da Vinci, a cartoon by Luca Signorelli, a study for a vault fresco by Taddeo Zuccaro, and many other drawings that are among the best Italian examples to have survived from that era. Most types of drawings in a wide variety of techniques are represented: figure studies, grand compositions, landscapes, cartoons, modelli, and even sculptors' studies. Sixteenth-century Italian Drawings in New York Collections William Griswold, Linda Wolk-Simon, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 1994 Focusing exclusively on examples from the 16th century, the great age of Italian drawing, this stunning volume published to accompany an early 1994 exhibition at The Metropolitan Museum of Art includes 124 prized works from The Metropolitan, the Pierpont Morgan Library, the Cooper Hewitt Museum, and some 20 private collections in New York. The catalogue is organized by school and within each section chronologically by artist. Each drawing is illustrated and presented with a discussion that places it in the context of the artist's career and explores the purpose for which it was made. Paper edition, unsee'n. 35. Annotation copyright by Book News Inc. Portland, OR Drawings from New York Collections. Vol. 1, The Italian Renaissance, 1967 Lorenzo Gambara's Caprarola and On Poetic Composition Paul G. Gwynne, Patrick M. Owens, 2025-07-24 In 1569 Lorenzo Gambara published a long verse description of the Farnese palace at Caprarola which was dedicated to Cardinal Alessandro Farnese Twelve years later this poem was thoroughly revised and considerably lengthened In the meantime the aged poet had repudiated the compositions of his youth and repented his lascivious verse This dramatic change of heart is documented in a Latin treatise in which poets are encouraged to eschew pagan and classical themes in favor of Christian subject matter This volume presents the first English translation with commentary of the revised poem and the treatise which is newly ascribed to the Jesuit polymath Antonio Possevino
