Terre Patrie:

Les origines religieuses du mondialisme H. Ryssen, Sustainabilism Ashkan Tashvir, 2025-11-15 Discover a practical path to participate consciously in shaping an authentically sustainable life business and world Why do so many of our efforts to fix the world seem to make it more fragile Why do organisations burn out their people societies divide over ideology and families fracture despite our best intentions We work harder invest more yet the systems we depend on economic social even personal still spiral into dysfunction This book invites you to look beneath these recurring dysfunctions to the hidden architecture shaping them In this groundbreaking work philosopher parallel entrepreneur philanthropist and best selling author Ashkan Tashvir exposes the illusion of doctrine based sustainability and presents a rigorous alternative the Authentic Sustainability Framework At its core lies the Unified Ontology of Systemic Integrity a map of interrelated qualities that reveal why systems at every scale individual organisational and societal either sustain themselves or fracture You will explore practical models such as the Systemic Subversion Cycle the Reconstructive Ontology of Sustainability and the Sustainability Profile which turn analysis into diagnosis and diagnosis into regeneration You will learn to distinguish authentic sustainability from sustainabilism the bureaucratic version that mistakes regulation for renewal and to design conditions where coherence emerges organically rather than being enforced For anyone seeking to genuinely lead create nurture and contribute executives redesigning culture policymakers building resilience educators shaping the next generation parents raising grounded families and anyone determined to leave the world a better place this book offers both insight and method Cultivate the only sustainability that endures one grounded in authenticity and systemic integrity Délibérations Et Mémoires de la Société Royale Du Canada Royal Society of Canada, 1895 The Asclepiad. v. 9, 1892, 1892 Myth and Symbol I Synnøve Des Bouvrie, 2002 Innovation Ecosystems Michel Saloff-Coste, 2022-06-22 Our current situation marked simultaneously by the Anthropocene global warming digitization and exponential artificial intelligence leads us to sudden and total change in global civilization and de facto to rebuilding the foundations of the international economy Innovation Ecosystems explores the risks and opportunities facing the contemporary world by analyzing comparing and categorizing the world's most dynamic innovation ecosystems by region and city This includes the identification of key characteristics common or original and learning from them in terms of culture management system and structure in order to meet current challenges and think about civilizations of the future Proceedings of the Royal Society of Canada Royal Society of Canada, 1895 Hommage à Milman Parry Françoise Létoublon, Helma Prof. Dik, 2023-07-17 Proceedings of the Universal Peace Congress, 1890 The American Friends, Peace Conference Held at Philadelphia Twelfth Month 12th, 13th and 14th, 1901 American Friends' peace conference, 1902 Life of the Abbé Adrien Ro[u]quette ("Chahta-Ima") Susan Blanchard Elder, 1913 The International Legal System in Quest of Equity and Universality Laurence Boisson de Chazournes, Vera Gowlland-Debbas, 2021-10-18 Georges Abi Saab began his writing and teaching at a time when the process of decolonization and thereafter the quest for emancipation began to make its far reaching impact on the international scene producing significant changes in the international environment both quantitatively in increasing the number of nation States and qualitatively in changing patterns of interests and claims This was bound to result in new pressures on the international legal system itself and in a questioning of the traditional Eurocentric content of international law In his work and teaching Professor Abi Saab viewed the dynamics of international law as a function of two driving forces the emergence of the third world and the sense of injustice In his view the first driving force the emergence of the third world raised the problem of exclusion exclusion from participation in the elaboration of international law and the decision making process and exclusion as beneficiaries of the resulting rules of international law At the same time this new force introduced diversity into the international scene reflecting the richness of the international community in its different facets This process remains relevant today reflecting the contemporary problem of exclusion of new actors as well as their quest for participation The second driving force the sense of injustice posed a teleological problem for him that of defining community values in order that they capture the different facets of justice whether formal or distributive So long as there is no effective organic structure international law in his view will continue to remain effectiveness oriented reflecting rather than impacting on the structures of power Nevertheless it is undeniable that there is an on going process of development of community values and interests as Georges Abi Saab wrote with reference to international crimes law like all social phenomena is a continuous unfolding a continuous process of elaboration He has also considered that the dynamics of the international legal process itself can be captured from the perspective of international organizations as vehicles for change in the international system From his early writings Georges Abi Saab approached the United Nations Charter as a blueprint both normative and institutional for a certain type of international society International institutions with all their imperfections continue for him to be the means of realization of the law of cooperation which lies at the heart of his concept of the international system The themes selected for this volume in honour of Professor Georges Abi Saab are intended to reflect his unique and pioneering contribution to the field of international law The contributors are drawn from what he has always considered to be his large family of former students in his forty years of teaching Georges Abi Saab has acted as mentor to generations of students from all over the world who have benefited from his vision insights originality and creative and stimulating use of language The contributors also include colleagues and friends who share a similar vision of the international legal system
