Polyvagal Power in the Playroom Paris Goodyear-Brown, Lorri A. Yassenik, 2024-03-26 Polyvagal Power in the Playroom shows therapists how to treat children using play therapy to address the hierarchy of autonomic states What do children need and how do play therapists purposefully use the principles of play to increase the feeling states of safety and regulation Step inside the playroom and discover how trained play therapists are addressing treatment using polyvagal theory when working with children and teens The book is organized into three parts Interruptions explores developmental derailments brought about by relational betrayals such as domestic violence child sexual abuse and attachment ruptures implicated in a myriad of adverse childhood experiences In these cases the neuroception of safety scaffolded through good enough rhythms of healthy caregiver child interactions is either compromised through a thousand relational cuts parental addiction or parental mental illness or abruptly ended divorce death or incarceration of a parent Happenings explores events that involve an external intrusion such as natural disasters wars and pandemics Expressions of risk and resilience explores mental health symptom clusters such as depression anxiety dissociation and explosive behavior through the lens of dorsal vagal or sympathetic nervous system states as well as specific play therapy methods for healing the nervous system The therapeutic powers of play are illustrated through case examples and in practical play based interventions woven throughout the book Child and play therapists will come away from Polyvagal Power in the Playroom with the tools they need to help children and their caregivers achieve deeper levels of safety and connection

The Right Sensory Mix Diana Derval, 2022-04-08 Many companies fail to acknowledge and analyze disparities observed among customers and simply put them down to culture or emotion New neuroendocrinological research proves that people are rational They just have a different biological perception of the same stimulus Their preferences behavior and decisions are strongly influenced by the hundreds of millions of sensors monitoring their body and brain People with more taste buds are for example sensitive to bitterness and are more likely to drink their coffee with sugar or milk or to drink tea This book helps product managers marketers and corporate decision makers understand and predict customers behavior and preferences It provides the tools to design the right sensory mix color shape depth taste smell texture and sound for each product and fine tune their positioning and range for every local market Using cases from different sectors the author shows that this approach delivers planet and people friendly innovations which have a higher chance of success in the market
