The Fall of Humankind and Social Progress Arttu Mäkipää, 2023-07-21 This book investigates the link between human capabilities and the preconditions for social progress through an engagement with the theological anthropology of Swiss theologian Emil Brunner 1889 1966 It places Brunner s thought in dialogue with selected contributors from the contemporary social sciences examining approaches from economics sociology and philosophy as put forward by Gary S Becker Christian Smith and Martha Nussbaum This dialogic format helps to crystallise both agreements and differences and thus facilitate greater understanding between theology and other disciplines Questions explored in the discussion relate to the emergence of human nature the person and the capabilities human beings possess as well as how these develop in a social context The author focuses in particular on the impact of sin the Fall and considers the mixed blessings of economic progress By providing pointers on how to bring back the human person in social disciplines the book hopes to contribute to improved understanding of the ethical dimension of social progress and human flourishing It will be of particular interest to scholars of analytic and systematic theology but also scholars from economics and social sciences with openness to theological engagement

The Goals of Medicine Mark J. Hanson, Daniel Callahan, 2000-10-27 Debates over health care have focused for so long on economics that the proper goals for medicine seem to be taken for granted yet problems in health care stem as much from a lack of agreement about the goals and priorities of medicine as from the way systems function This book asks basic questions about the purposes and ends of medicine and shows that the answers have practical implications for future health care delivery medical research and the education of medical students The Hastings Center coordinated teams of physicians nurses public health experts philosophers theologians politicians health care administrators social workers and lawyers in fourteen countries to explore these issues In this volume they articulate four basic goals of medicine prevention of disease relief of suffering care of the ill and avoidance of premature death and examine them in light of the cultural political and economic pressures under which medicine functions In reporting these findings the contributors touch on a wide range of diverse issues such as genetic technology Chinese medicine care of the elderly and prevention and public health The Goals of Medicine clearly demonstrates the importance of clarifying the purposes of medicine before attempting to change the economic and organizational systems It warns that without such examination any reform efforts may be fruitless
