Technologists Storytellers:

Technology's Storytellers John M. Staudenmaier, 1989-09-06 Technology's Storytellers documents the emergence of the history of technology as a coherent intellectual discipline Based on an analysis of nearly 300 articles published in Technology and Culture it proposes a mode of historical research as a communal rather than an individualistic endeavor looking for patterns of consensus in the authors choice of time periods geographical locations and types of technology to study It discusses the recurrent themes of the relationship between science and technology and the cultural ambience of technology and examines the extent to which historians are moving away from a once pervasive ideology of autonomous technological progress Co published with the Society for the History of Technology Reframing Technology Kent Hufford, 2024-07-22 For over a hundred years technological change has been framed using a simple narrative technology drives history Reframing Technology challenges this idea of technological determinism through metahistorical and literary analyses that locate the birth of contingent frameworks in the historiography of technology in and around the 1930s The book also traces how the formal discipline of the History of Technology was remarkably preconfigured by four North American authors who were not professional historians Thorstein Veblen Stuart Chase Lewis Mumford and Marshall McLuhan They are considered as a continuum and are put in dialogue despite their training in different disciplines Their work is then linked up with the emergence of formal and institutional inquiry into narratives of technology at the end of the twentieth century The ideas in the book are applied to current discussions about the future of technology and artificial intelligence The book's main argument is that as the authors listed above suggest we need to think beyond the machine and reframe technology as a cultural practice rather than thinking of it as an object or a tool Digital Storytelling with IMovie Mark Standley, 2004

Fifty Years of Medieval Technology and Social Change Steven A. Walton, 2019-08-22 This volume brings together a series of papers at Kalamazoo as well as some contributed papers inspired by the fiftieth anniversary of the publication of Lynn White Jr's Medieval Technology and Social Change 1962 a slim study which catalyzed the study of technology in the Middle Ages in the English speaking world While the initial reviews and decades long fortune of the volume have been varied it is still in print and remains a touchstone of an idea and a time The contributors to the volume therefore both investigate the book itself and its fate and look at new research furthering and inspired by White's work The book opens with an introduction surveying White's career with a bibliography of his work as well as some opening thoughts on the study of medieval technology in the last fifty years Three papers then deal explicitly with the reception and longevity of his work and its impact on medieval studies more generally Then five papers look at new cast studies areas where White's work and approach has had a particular impact namely medieval technology studies and medieval rural ecological studies Digital Storytelling with PowerPoint Mark Standley, 2003 Proceedings, 1997 Proceeding of the Technologies for Interactive Digital Storytelling and Entertainment (TIDSE) Conference, 2003 Stefan Göbel, 2003 DE Technology

,1987 Does Technology Drive History? Merritt Roe Smith, Leo Marx, 1994-06-02 These thirteen essays explore a crucial historical question that has been notoriously hard to pin down To what extent and by what means does a society's technology determine its political social economic and cultural forms These thirteen essays explore a crucial historical question that has been notoriously hard to pin down To what extent and by what means does a society's technology determine its political social economic and cultural forms Karl Marx launched the modern debate on determinism with his provocative remark that the hand mill gives you society with the feudal lord the steam mill society with the industrial capitalist and a classic article by Robert Heilbroner reprinted here renewed the debate within the context of the history of technology This book clarifies the debate and carries it forward Marx's position has become embedded in our culture in the form of constant reminders as to how our fast changing technologies will alter our lives Yet historians who have looked closely at where technologies really come from generally support the proposition that technologies are not autonomous but are social products susceptible to democratic controls The issue is crucial for democratic theory These essays tackle it head on offering a deep look at all the shadings of determinism and assessing determinist models in a wide variety of historical contexts Contributors Bruce Bimber Richard W Bulliet Robert L Heilbroner Thomas P Hughes Leo Marx Thomas J Misa Peter C Perdue Philip Scranton Merritt Roe Smith Michael L Smith John M Staudenmaier Rosalind Williams
