The Ancient Egyptian Economy Brian Muhs,2016-08-02 This book is the first economic history of ancient Egypt covering the entire pharaonic period 3000 30 BCE and employing a New Institutional Economics approach It argues that the ancient Egyptian state encouraged an increasingly widespread and sophisticated use of writing through time primarily in order to better document and more efficiently exact taxes for redistribution The increased use of writing however also resulted in increased documentation and enforcement of private property titles and transfers gradually lowering their transaction costs relative to redistribution The book also argues that the increasing use of silver as a unified measure of value medium of exchange and store of wealth also lowered transaction costs for high value exchanges The increasing use of silver in turn allowed the state to exact transfer taxes in silver providing it with an economic incentive to further document and enforce private property titles and transfers Scottish Geographical Magazine ,1916 The Biblical Review ,1926 Fate of Sir John Franklin Sir Francis Leopold M'Clintock,1881
